AGGIE OUTLOOK

Mathematicians, psychologists, physicists and other scientists work with and try to figure out the unknown. Utah State men's basketball head coach Stew Morrill can be added to that group as he enters the season with several unknowns, including personnel on the Aggies' roster, as well as dealing with everything that comes with USU's eighth and final season in the Western Athletic Conference, which includes five teams that are new to the conference and bring with them all sorts of unknowns.

"It is a little bit of an odd situation for us. We came to the WAC from the Big West and this is our eighth and final year in the WAC before we move to the Mountain West next year. In all the years I've coached, this is as unusual situation as you'll find. There's all kinds of teams coming in that we're unfamiliar with and just as you're figuring some out, you're going to leave. There are a lot of new teams in the league that we don't know much about," said Morrill, who enters his 15th season at the helm of the Aggies' program and his 27th overall season as a head coach.

"We have been fortunate to win four WAC Championships during our short time in the conference. We are looking forward to the Mountain West because it is a very challenging league, but we'll also have some nostalgia about leaving the WAC. The conference has been very good to our basketball program and we're going to feel sad because we've had a lot of good things happen while a part of this league," Morrill said.

Morrill and the Aggies aren't completely unfamiliar with the entire list of incoming teams, which includes Denver, Seattle, Texas State, UT Arlington and UTSA.

"We played UT Arlington in our home tournament last year and we've played both Denver and Seattle home and home, so we are familiar with some of them, but others I've not seen play in person nor on tape, so don't really have a feel yet. We'll just have to get educated as we go," Morrill said.

In addition to getting educated on their opponents, the Aggies will be getting educated about each other as the 2012-13 roster features three returning starters as part of five returning lettermen with the addition of two players who redshirted last season along with eight newcomers.

"Everyone counts some kids that were here last year practicing as new, but I view them as returnees for having been in the system. We have a lot of new guys, there's a lot of unknowns, we do return some guys that have experience," Morrill said.

One of the unknowns that Morrill won't have to worry about is veteran leadership and talent, as among the returning starters is junior guard Preston Medlin and senior forward Kyisean Reed, who both earned honors last year and are expected to have good years.

"Preston Medlin was a first-team all-league player last year and we're fortunate to have him back, and Kyisean Reed was on the all-newcomer team and had a solid first year."

For the 13th straight season, USU had at least one player earn first-team all-league honors as Medlin was named to the WAC's first team, marking just the second time in school history that a sophomore earned first-team all-conference honors along with Nate Harris (2004). Reed was named to the league's all-newcomer team, and is the Aggies' lone senior this season and is expected to have a big year, along with several of USU's newcomers.

"We've got some guys that were sitting out that we've got some high hopes for. Our fortunes in the league will be based a lot on how it all meshes and what all these new guys are able to get done and how the veterans are able to improve. It is probably one of the most unknown years I've had here at Utah State. We've had some years where we weren't sure what we had and this is certainly one of those years and is in that category; we're kind of an unknown commodity. We're excited about it, we think we've got some potential, but we also realize that we don't know about a lot of things," Morrill said.

One thing that is known for USU is Morrill's success, as he is the winningest coach in the Aggies' tradition-rich history. During Morrill's tenure on the USU bench, the Aggies have amassed an impressive 345-119 (.745) record including 175-55 (.761) in conference games as well as a 25-8 (.758) ledger in conference tournament action. Entering its eighth and final season in the WAC, Utah State has compiled a 144-84 (.632) mark in WAC games under Morrill. He has also earned conference coach of the year honors on five separate occasions during his time at Utah State, including being named the 2009, 2010 and 2011 WAC Coach of the Year.

While at Utah State, Morrill has guided the Aggies to 13 straight 21-win seasons and 13 straight postseason appearances (NCAA-8, NIT-4, CIT-1), both of which are school records. Prior to Morrill's current run, USU had never posted more than three straight 20-win seasons and participated in more than three-straight post-season tournaments.

During the last 13 years, Utah State is one of just five teams in the nation to win at least 21 games in each of those seasons, along with Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas and Syracuse.

In order to have another 21-win season, Utah State will look toward the leadership of Medlin, both on and off the court, according to Morrill.

"He's just so versatile. He can score, he can definitely shoot the basketball, and he makes a lot of plays for his teammates," Morrill said about Medlin. "We need to put him in a lot of positions to make plays. He needs to have the ball in his hands a lot."

Medlin had the ball in his hands a lot in his hands last year, finishing his sophomore season leading the team and ranking third in the WAC in scoring at 17.0 points per game. In fact, Medlin finished the year with 628 points to rank as the 10th-most in a single-season in school history and the second-most in a single-season by an underclassman. Furthermore, Medlin became just the sixth sophomore in school history to lead his team in scoring.

Medlin also finished the 2011-12 season ranking second in the WAC and 16th in the nation in three-point shooting at 42.8 percent. He also ranked fourth in the league in free throw shooting (.801), seventh in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.70), ninth in assists (3.35) and 10th in overall shooting (.496).

Off the court, Medlin has improved on his physical physique in the offseason, and it did not go unnoticed.

"He's worked hard in the offseason to try and gain some weight, I think that strength is an area that would certainly help him at the Division I level. His slightness has not been something that has kept him from producing, but we all know that strength is a good thing in terms of rebounding and defending. I'd like to see him continue to grow as a defender. I actually think if he doesn't have to do as much as he did last year, that would probably indicate that we have more balance and have a little better basketball team. I've spoken with him about that. We need him to do a lot, but we don't need him to be the only guy doing a lot," Morrill added.

Besides Medlin, the Aggies can also rely on Reed, who is the team's second-leading scorer returning at 10.0 points per game. Overall, he finished his junior season leading the WAC in field goal percentage at 61.4 percent which also ranks eighth all-time at Utah State for a single-season. Reed also ranked sixth in the WAC in blocked shots (1.14) as his 41 total blocks during the year are tied for the ninth-most in a single-season in school history. Reed also ranked 14th in the WAC in rebounding (5.1) and ended the season with a team-leading 40 dunks.

"I expect Kyisean to be better in all phases of the game," Morrill said. "He shot a very, very high percentage. He got a lot of easy baskets and dunks, he was a junior college kid that did some really good things, but wasn't consistent in all areas of the game. For us to be good, his work ethic and work habits need to be consistent, his ability to pass the basketball, his ability to play hard all the time, to defend, are all areas that he needs to improve. He is a spectacular athlete, he just needs to become a spectacular player in all phases of the game. If he can be as tough and well-rounded as he is athletic, we'd really have something."

In addition to Medlin and Reed, Morrill and the Aggies also have a third returning starter back in junior Danny Berger, who can play both forward positions. Last season Berger sat out the first six games of the year as a potential redshirt, but then started in 25 of 31 games played. Berger netted double-digit points 10 times last season, including three of the final six games, highlighted by tying a school record with five three-pointers in a postseason game as part of his career-high tying 17 points in CollegeInsiders.com Tournament semifinal win over Oakland. Finishing the year with a 6.6 points, 3.4 rebounds and 2.4 assists per game average, Berger also shot 37.2 percent from the field and 36.7 percent from three-point range to go with a 76.9 percent free throw shooting.

"Danny should be and we think he will be an important cog for our team this year," Morrill said.

Other returning Aggie lettermen are the sophomore duo of forward Ben Clifford and center Jordan Stone, who both gained valuable playing time as freshmen last year and are expected to pick up where they left off in their progress from a season ago, as Clifford played in 36 games and Stone saw action in 31 games. Clifford averaged 4.4 points to go with 3.5 rebounds per game while Stone tallied 2.1 points and 2.5 rebounds per contest, and both were solid defenders in the post for USU.

"Ben has been working hard to improve his strength, which is a factor at this level for him. Like all of our young guys who got time last year, he needs to take the next step and show that he has improved," Morrill said. "Jordan is a big, physical presence that has to continue to improve his skill level to earn the minutes that are available at that position."

The Aggies have 10 new additions to the playing roster with two players who redshirted a year ago plus eight newcomers.

"Your freshman guys you are going to give a little more slack and give them a little more time, they are young and they are trying to find there way," Morrill said. "However our two players that redshirted plus our junior college guys, their clock is ticking and they have got to step up."

Most, if not all, of the newcomers are expected to contribute right away, as USU looks to make it 14 years in a row of reaching the postseason.

"I expect them all to try and compete for time, to say 'hey I am not just going to be a new guy, I am going to really help.' We have two brands of new guys because we have the new guys that were here that haven't played yet. Jarred Shaw and Matt Lopez are two guys that have a little bit of an advantage compared to the brand new guys," Morrill said.

Shaw redshirted last season after transferring to USU from Oklahoma State while Lopez came to USU mid-year from LaSalle and will miss the first seven games. Both Shaw and Lopez give Morrill and the Aggies size and talent in the post, as well as veteran experience. As a sophomore at OSU, Shaw appeared in 26 games and averaged 1.2 points and 1.2 rebounds. Lopez played in nine games and averaged 0.9 points and 0.9 rebounds as a freshman at LaSalle.

"When you have a guy like Jarred Shaw who is in his fourth year after redshirting last year transferring from Oklahoma State, you are counting on him to be productive. He is older and more experienced," Morrill said.

Besides Shaw and Lopez, Morrill will also have eight newcomers, with an even split of four junior college players in junior forward/guard Spencer Butterfield, junior forward Sean Harris, junior forward Marvin Jean and junior guard TeNale Roland.

"You are counting on your junior college guys, you recruit junior college guys to help you," said Morrill about his four junior college newcomers.

Butterfield comes to USU from Yuba CC where as a sophomore, he was named the California Junior College Co-Player of the Year as he averaged 16.3 points, 8.3 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 1.7 steals per game, while shooting 54.1 percent from the field (186-344), 47.6 percent from three-point range (70-147) and 81.7 percent at the free throw line (125-153).

Harris played in just five games due to injury during his sophomore season at Yuba (Calif.) College as he averaged 9.0 points and 7.2 rebounds per game. As a freshman at Yuba, during the 2008-09 season, he averaged 14.9 points and 11.7 rebounds per game and was the runner-up for the Bay Valley Conference Player of the Year.

Jean earned first-team Mid-Hudson conference honors during both years at Sullivan (N.Y.) Community College, helping lead the Generals to a 27-4 record and to the semifinals of the National Junior College Athletics Association Region XV Division III Tournament this past year. During his sophomore season, he averaged 13.1 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2.7 assists, while shooting 40.8 percent from the field (143-350), 40.3 percent from three-point range (54-134) and 72.6 percent at the free throw line (53-73).

Roland earned National Junior College Athletic Association Division II second-team All-American honors as a sophomore at Rend Lake (Ill.) College as he averaged 20.7 points, 4.5 assists and 3.7 steals per game.

The other half of the newcomers are made up of freshmen, who Morrill will also look toward for contributions.

"With the older, more experienced guys, there is probably more expectations on them to be a factor on this team, but you certainly don't rule out that some freshmen could help as well," Morrill said.

The four-player freshman class consists of forwards Quincy Bair and Quinn Taylor, along with guards Riley Bradshaw and Marcel Davis.

Bair comes to USU from American Fork (Utah) High School, where he was named the Region 4 Co-MVP and earned first team all-state honors from both the Salt Lake Tribune and Deseret News as he helped the Caveman to a 19-3 record and a co-region championship. He averaged 13.0 points, 4.1 rebounds, 1.8 assists and 1.4 steals per game as a senior, while shooting 54.7 percent from the field (70-128), 33.8 percent from three-point range (26-77) and 68.3 percent at the free throw line (69-101).

As a prep senior at Corvallis (Mont.) High School, Bradshaw earned Bitterroot Valley Player of the Year honors as he averaged 24.1 points, 7.1 assists, 6.2 rebounds and 2.0 steals per game, while shooting 53.8 percent from the field (128-238), 38.0 percent from three-point range (46-121) and 80.6 percent at the free throw line (112-139).

As a prep senior at American Fork (Utah) High School, Davis earned first-team all-region and all-state honors as he averaged 10.5 points, 5.7 assists and 4.1 rebounds per game, while shooting 57.1 percent from the field (72-126), 20.4 percent from three-point range (10-49) and 70.0 percent at the free throw line (56-80).

Taylor joins the Aggies from Lanham Creek (Texas) High School, where he earned first-team all-district 17-5A honors as well as all-Houston area honors, averaging 11.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 2.0 assists, 1.1 steals and 0.6 blocks per game.

"I am excited about our team because it is always fun to start a new season and to look at the potential. I told our players in a meeting this year that we have a chance. I will be the first to admit that we have a chance but that is what we have got right now. It's not like when we had been to the NCAA twice in a row and we had pretty much everybody back. Then the expectations that are out there are justified. The expectations that are out there right now are just Utah State. It is just the nature of 13 straight postseasons and lots of championships and 20 game winners and all of that. So, that is why the expectations are always what they are because of the past and the tradition of this basketball program while I have been here and long before I got here. That goes without saying and is something that is good. A lot of people would like to have what we have, so we are appreciative of that. That is where the expectations come from, just the nature of the beast," Morrill said.

SCHEDULE

USU has two exhibition contests plus its first four games of the regular-season that will be played in the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum, where the Aggies have won 100 of their last 107 games, and have amassed a 210-18 (.921) record at home under Morrill, including a 53-9 (.855) home ledger in Western Athletic Conference games, as well as 105-8 (.929) in non-conference games.

"The first thing that is a big change from last year is only 12 non-league games compared to 17 in 2011-12 season," Morrill said. "Obviously that is due to a larger WAC schedule with 18 league games versus 14 last season."

Highlighting Utah State's 2012-13 non-conference schedule will be a home game against Saint Mary's, the defending West Coast Conference champions and an NCAA Tournament team from a year ago, as well as a home game against in-state foe Weber State, who played in last year's CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament.

"There are the usual challenges and opportunities in the schedule. We play WCC favorite Saint Mary's at home early and that will certainly give us an idea of where we are," Morrill said.

The Aggies have three non-conference road games, including two in the state, as they'll travel south to take on Brigham Young, an NCAA Tournament participant, and Utah Valley, who played in last season's CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament after winning its second-straight Great West Conference regular-season championship. Utah State's lone non-conference out-of-state trip will be its first road game of the year, heading to Santa Clara.

USU will host the World Vision Challenge sponsored by Gossner Foods, welcoming Southern Illinois, Nicholls State and UC Davis right before Christmas in addition to hosting an ESPN BracketBusters game in February.

"We have the in-state games with all the normal emphasis on those rivalries, our annual pre-Christmas Tournament that includes Missouri Valley Conference power Southern Illinois, in addition to a swan song BracketBuster game in February that finish up the non-conference," Morrill said.

USU's eighth and final season in the WAC will also include two postseason teams, facing defending conference champion and NCAA Tournament participant New Mexico State as well as WAC-newcomer UT Arlington, who played in last year's National Invitational Tournament after winning the Southland Conference regular-season title. The Aggies will also be taking on four other new WAC foes in Denver, Seattle, Texas State and UTSA, as well as traditional league match-ups against Idaho, Louisiana Tech and San Jose State.

"Our last year in the WAC will be sentimental for me and a big challenge. With many new players, I'm sure we won't be a favorite, and yet we hope to challenge for a fifth conference championship in our eight years of WAC play," Morrill said. "All in all, it should be lots of fun. We look forward to getting better as we go."

The Aggies open with exhibition games against Grand Canyon and Simon Fraser on Friday, Oct. 26 and Saturday, Nov. 3, respectively, before hosting Idaho State on Saturday, Nov. 10 in the 2012-13 season-opener, the first of four-straight home games. USU will then host a pair of out-of-state foes in the same weekend when it hosts Saint Mary's on Thursday, Nov. 15 and Texas A&M-Corpus Christi on Saturday, Nov. 17.

A Beehive State battle is in store for Thanksgiving weekend when Morrill and the Aggies host in-state foe Weber State, under the direction of former USU assistant coach Randy Rahe on Saturday, Nov. 24. Utah State will hit the road for the first time to close out the month of November, heading to Santa Clara on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

Utah State returns to the state of Utah but continues road action by playing at BYU on Wednesday, Dec. 5. USU will then host Western Oregon on Saturday, Dec. 8 before its final non-conference road game of the season, heading to Utah Valley on Saturday, Dec. 15.

The Aggies will then host the 2012 World Vision Challenge sponsored by Gossner Foods which runs from Thursday, Dec. 20 through Saturday, Dec. 22, featuring Southern Illinois, Nicholls State and UC Davis.

Utah State will close out December by opening its eighth and final season of WAC action by heading to Texas to face conference newcomers UTSA and Texas State on Saturday, Dec. 29 and Monday, Dec. 31, respectively, in USU's first-ever match-ups against both schools. The Aggies will kick off the new year by hosting another first-year WAC member in Seattle on Thursday, Jan. 3 before hosting Idaho and former USU assistant coach Don Verlin on Saturday, Jan. 5. Utah State will round out its longest WAC homestand of the season by hosting San Jose State on Saturday, Jan. 12.

After playing at New Mexico State on Thursday, Jan. 17, USU will play at another first-year WAC team, Denver, on Saturday, Jan. 19. The Aggies return home to host first-year WAC foe UT Arlington on Thursday, Jan. 24, in the Mavericks' second year in a row playing in the Spectrum after playing in last year's World Vision Challenge sponsored by Gossner Foods, before USU faces Louisiana Tech on Saturday, Jan. 26. USU completes January action and opens February play by heading to the Northwest, with a match-up at Idaho on Thursday, Jan. 31 and at Seattle on Saturday, Feb. 2. The Aggies' longest road stretch of the regular-season concludes on Saturday, Feb. 9 at San Jose State.

A three-game homestand opens on Thursday, Feb. 14 with a Valentine's Day match-up with Denver, before an all-Aggie clash between USU and New Mexico State on Saturday, Feb. 16. For the eighth year in row, Utah State will be participating in the ESPN BracketBusters, and will host an opponent to be determined on Friday, Feb. 22 or Saturday, Feb. 23.

The Aggies' final regular-season road trip will take them to Louisiana Tech on Thursday, Feb. 28 and play at UT Arlington for the first time in school history on Saturday, March 2. To conclude the regular-season portion of the ledger, Utah State will host Texas State on Thursday, March 7 and UTSA on Saturday, March 9 in both teams' first-ever visits to the Spectrum.

The 2013 WAC Tournament will once again be held at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas, Nev., from Mar. 12-16, utilizing the traditional 10-team tournament format, with the No. 10 seed meeting No. 7 and No. 8 will face No. 9 in the first round, with the winners advancing to the quarterfinals.

POINT GUARDS

Riley Bradshaw, 6-2, 180, Fr., HS
Marcel Davis, 6-2, 180, Fr., HS
TeNale Roland, 6-1, 170, Jr., JC

Utah State will have a newcomer starting at the point after the graduation of two-year starter Brockeith Pane, who played in 71 games during his Aggie career, and twice earned all-WAC honors. As a senior, Pane averaged 12.6 points, 4.3 assists and 3.0 rebounds per game, and scored in double-figures 27 times. USU will also be without the services of walk-on E.J. Farris who will not return for his senior season after appearing in 54 games during the past two years. The leading candidate to be the opening day starter at the point for USU will be junior college transfer TeNale Roland who earned National Junior College Athletic Association Division II second-team All-American honors as a sophomore at Rend Lake (Ill.) College as he averaged 20.7 points, 4.5 assists and 3.7 steals per game. Along with Roland, Utah State welcomes two other talented newcomers to the fold at the point in freshmen Riley Bradshaw and Marcel Davis. As a prep senior at Corvallis (Mont.) High School, Bradshaw earned Bitterroot Valley Player of the Year honors as he averaged 24.1 points, 7.1 assists, 6.2 rebounds and 2.0 steals per game, while shooting 53.8 percent from the field (128-238), 38.0 percent from three-point range (46-121) and 80.6 percent at the free throw line (112-139). As a prep senior at American Fork (Utah) High School, Davis earned first-team all-region and all-state honors as he averaged 10.5 points, 5.7 assists and 4.1 rebounds per game, while shooting 57.1 percent from the field (72-126), 20.4 percent from three-point range (10-49) and 70.0 percent at the free throw line (56-80).

SHOOTING GUARDS

*Preston Medlin, 6-4, 175, Jr., 2L
* - returning starter

Utah State returns perhaps the best overall player in the WAC at shooting guard in junior Preston Medlin who started all 37 games for the Aggies as a sophomore. Medlin, who earned first-team all-WAC honors a year ago, finished the season averaging 17.0 points, 4.4 rebounds and 3.4 assists per game, while shooting 49.6 percent from the field, 42.8 percent from three-point range and 80.1 percent at the free throw line. As a sophomore, Medlin scored in double-figures 31 times, including 20-plus points 13 times, and a career-high 32 points against Idaho. He finished the year ranking second in the WAC and 16th in the nation in three-point shooting, third in the WAC and 80th in the nation in points per game, and 10th in the WAC and 75th in the nation in overall shooting. Medlin also ranked fourth in the league in free throw shooting, seventh in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.70) and ninth in assists. Other players who could see time here include juniors Danny Berger and Spencer Butterfield, along with freshman Riley Bradshaw.

SMALL FORWARDS

Quincy Bair, 6-5, 180, Fr., HS
*Danny Berger, 6-6, 205, Jr., 1L
Spencer Butterfield, 6-3, 205, Jr., JC
Marvin Jean, 6-4, 190, Jr., JC
Quinn Taylor, 6-6, 170, Fr., HS
* - returning starter

The Aggies have a great deal of depth, versatility and athleticism at the small forward position, and will have several options. The lone returner at small forward is junior Danny Berger, who started 25 games and played in 31 last season after sitting out the first six games of the year as a potential redshirt. Berger finished the year averaging 6.6 points, 3.4 rebounds and 2.35 assists per game, while shooting 37.2 percent from the field (64-172), 36.7 percent from three-point range (36-98), and 76.9 percent at the free throw line (40-52). The four newcomers are equally divided between two junior college transfers and two freshmen. Spencer Butterfield and Marvin Jean join the Aggies from junior college, while Quincy Bair and Quinn Taylor are freshmen. Butterfield comes to USU from Yuba CC where as a sophomore, he was named the California Junior College Co-Player of the Year as he averaged 16.3 points, 8.3 rebounds, 3.1 assists and 1.7 steals per game, while shooting 54.1 percent from the field (186-344), 47.6 percent from three-point range (70-147) and 81.7 percent at the free throw line (125-153). Jean earned first-team Mid-Hudson conference honors during both years at Sullivan (N.Y.) Community College, helping lead the Generals to a 27-4 record and to the semi-finals of the National Junior College Athletics Association Region XV Division III Tournament a year ago. During his sophomore season, he averaged 13.1 points, 6.7 rebounds and 2.7 assists, while shooting 40.8 percent from the field (143-350), 40.3 percent from three-point range (54-134) and 72.6 percent at the free throw line (53-73). Bair comes to USU from American Fork (Utah) High School, where he was named the Region 4 Co-MVP and earned first team all-state honors from both the Salt Lake Tribune and Deseret News as a senior as he helped the Caveman to a 19-3 record and a co-region championship. He averaged 13.0 points, 4.1 rebounds, 1.8 assists and 1.4 steals per game as a senior, while shooting 54.7 percent from the field (70-128), 33.8 percent from three-point range (26-77) and 68.3 percent at the free throw line (69-101). Taylor joins the Aggies from Lanham Creek (Utah) High School, where he earned first-team all-district 17-5A honors as well as all-Houston area honors, averaging 11.5 points, 5.6 rebounds, 2.0 assists, 1.1 steals and 0.6 blocks per game.

POWER FORWARDS

Ben Clifford, 6-7, 220, So., 1L
Sean Harris, 6-7, 220, Jr., JC
*Kyisean Reed, 6-6, 215, Sr., 1L
* - returning starter

Utah State's most experienced position heading into the 2012-13 season will be at power forward as it returns two proven players here from a year ago in senior starter Kyisean Reed and sophomore reserve Ben Clifford. Reed, who is perhaps the most athletic post-player in the WAC, was named to the league's all-newcomer team a year ago as he averaged 10.0 points, 5.1 rebounds and 1.1 blocked shots per game, while shooting 61.4 percent from the field and 67.9 percent at the free throw line. He finished the season ranking first in the WAC in field goal shooting, sixth in blocked shots and 14th and rebounding, and had an eye-popping 40 dunks to also rank first in the conference. After redshirting his first year at Utah State, Clifford played in 36 games, starting four, in 2012 and finished the season averaging 4.4 points and 3.5 rebounds, while shooting 50.9 percent from the field, 38.9 percent from three-point range and 72.9 percent at the free throw line in 16.8 minutes per outing. The one newcomer to this position is junior college transfer Sean Harris who played in just five games due to injury during his sophomore season at Yuba (Calif.) College as he averaged 9.0 points and 7.2 rebounds per game. As a freshman at Yuba, during the 2008-09 season, he averaged 14.9 points and 11.7 rebounds per game and was the runner-up for the Bay Valley Conference Player of the Year.

CENTERS

Matt Lopez, 6-11, 245, So., TR
Jarred Shaw, 6-10, 235, Jr., RS
Jordan Stone, 6-10, 270, So., 1L

Despite having to replace a senior starter here in Morgan Grim, who averaged 9.1 points and a team-best 6.1 rebounds a year ago, Utah State has lots of options and lots of size at the center position in junior redshirt Jarred Shaw, sophomore transfer Matt Lopez and sophomore letterwinner Jordan Stone. Stone appeared in 34 games and started two during his first year at Utah State and ended the season averaging 2.1 points and 2.5 rebounds, while shooting 60.5 percent from the field (26-43). Shaw, who spent two years at Oklahoma State, sat out last season after transferring. As a sophomore at OSU, Shaw appeared in 26 games and averaged 1.2 points and 1.2 rebounds while shooting 50.0 percent from the field (12-24). Lopez also sat out last season after transferring from LaSalle University halfway through the year. As a redshirt freshman at LaSalle, Lopez played in nine games and averaged 0.9 points and 0.9 rebounds, while shooting 42.9 percent from the field (3-7).

HEAD COACH

STEW MORRILL

- Alma Mater (Gonzaga, 1974)
- Record at Utah State (345-119, .744, 14 Seasons)
- Overall Record (563-257, .687, 26 Seasons)

Entering his 27th season as a collegiate head coach and 15th year at Utah State, Stew Morrill has established himself as one of the most respected coaches in the country. He is also the school's all-time winningest coach as he passed the legendary E. Lowell Romney's 225 career wins on Jan. 17, 2008 with an 82-78 win against Boise State.

In 14 years at Utah State, Morrill has taken the Aggie Basketball program to unprecedented heights leading USU to an incredible 345-119 (.744) record, including a 175-55 (.761) mark in the Big West and Western Athletic Conferences.

While at Utah State, he has guided the Aggies to 13 straight 21-win seasons and 13 straight postseason appearances (NCAA-8, NIT-4, CIT-1), both of which are school records. Prior to Morrill's current run, USU had never posted more than three straight 20-win seasons and participated in more than three-straight postseason tournaments.

During the last 13 years, Utah State is one of just five teams in the nation to win at least 21 games in each of those seasons, along with Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas and Syracuse.

Morrill has also led Utah State to the fourth-best winning percentage in the nation during the last 13 years at 75.7 percent with an overall record of 330-106. Against conference opponents, Utah State has a 201-63 record with seven regular season league championships and six tournament titles during that time, including appearances in its league's tournament championship game 10 times in the last 13 years.

Under Morrill, Utah State has notched 12 of the top 13 seasons in school history as the Aggies set a school record with 28 wins during the 2000 season, tied that record with 28 wins during the 2001 season, set a school record with 30 wins in 2009 and tied that record with 30 wins in 2011.

During the 2011-12 season, Utah State made its 30th postseason appearance all-time as it advanced to the championship game of the CollegiateInsider.com Tournament winning four postseason games in the process, which is a single-season school record.

For the 13th straight year, Utah State had at least one player earn first-team all-league accolades in 2012 as sophomore guard Preston Medlin was named first-team all-WAC, becoming just the second sophomore in school history to earn first-team all-conference honors along with Nate Harris (2004).

Utah State had two other players honored by the WAC in 2012 as senior guard Brockeith Pane was named to the league's honorable mention team, while junior forward Kyisean Reed was voted to the WAC's all-newcomer team.

Medlin and Pane were also named to the CollegiateInsider.com all-tournament team in 2012 along with senior forward Morgan Grim.

Overall, Morrill has coached 15 first-team all-league players at Utah State who have won the award a total of 21 times. Morrill has also coached three of the past five WAC Players of the Year in Tai Wesley (2011), Gary Wilkinson (2009) and Jaycee Carroll (2008), and all three of those players went on to earn Associated Press honorable mention All-America honors - Wesley (2011); Wilkinson (2009); Carroll (2007, 2008).

During the 2010-11 season, Morrill guided Utah State to its fourth-straight regular season WAC Championship, including its third-straight outright title with a 15-1 record. USU also won its second WAC Tournament title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 20th time in school history, including eight times under Morrill's watch.

Furthermore, the 2010-11 Aggie basketball team was nationally ranked for the last nine weeks of the season and finished the year ranked No. 25 in the country in final ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll, marking the first time since the 1978 season and only the eighth time in school history that an Aggie team was nationally ranked at the end of the year.

Morrill was also honored during the 2010-11 season and was named the WAC Coach of the Year for the third time in as many years. He was also named the 2011 Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year by CollegiateInsider.com and the National Association of Basketball Coaches District 6 Co-Coach of the Year for the second-straight season.

All-time, Morrill has been named Coach of the Year (2000 BWC, 2002 BWC, 2009 WAC, 2010 WAC, 2011 WAC) five times in his 13 years at USU, along with winning the Big Sky award while the head coach at Montana in 1991.

Morrill has taken full advantage of the home court at USU, the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. In Morrill's 14 years, USU is an amazing 210-18 (.921) at home, which includes a 105-10 (.913) record in league play.

As for Morrill, he has won 20 or more games on 17 different occasions during his career and has won at least 17 games 23 times.

Overall, Morrill ranks 16th in the nation among active coaches and 57th all-time with his 563 career wins, while his career winning percentage of 68.7 percent ranks 23rd among active coaches and 80th all-time. He is also one of 18 active coaches with 500 career wins at the Division I level and one of just 11 active coaches to notch at least 17 20-win seasons. His current streak of 13 straight 20-win seasons ranks tied for fifth among active coaches and is tied for the 11th-longest streak at the Division I level.

Academics and community service have been of top priority to Morrill and his staff as all of the team members are involved with USU's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program within the community. In his 14 years, Morrill has graduated better than 80 percent of his players, and over the past 10 years, Utah State has had 30 academic all-conference honorees.

Morrill, who was born in Provo, Utah and attended Provo High School, owns a career record of 563-257 in 26 years of collegiate coaching, including a 345-119 record at Utah State in 14 years, a 121-86 record in seven years at Colorado State (1992-98) and a 97-52 mark in five campaigns at Montana (1987-91).

"There are several reasons that I was attracted to Utah State," Morrill said when he was hired. "The first was being a Utah native so that it is a homecoming of sorts for me. My brother and sister both live within an hour and a half of Logan.

"I am very familiar with the tradition of Utah State basketball and can name the greats as well as any alumni could," Morrill added. "It is a good basketball situation and my family will love the quality of the community of Logan. It is a great place to live and that is very important to me and my family. It just made sense to us."

The 60-year old ranks second on the CSU victory list and second in winning percentage. He guided the Rams to back-to-back 20-win seasons the last two years in Fort Collins, with identical 20-9 marks. During the 1997-98 season, CSU made its second trip to the NIT in the last three years.

Morrill guided CSU to two of its eight all-time 20-win seasons and won at least 17 games five times in his seven years. In fact, Morrill-led CSU teams own three of the top nine winning seasons in school history.

During his tenure at Colorado State, he coached three first-team all-WAC selections, one second-team pick and six honorable mention choices. Three of his players were named to the WAC all-tournament team.

After his collegiate playing career, which included being named an All-American at nearby Ricks (Idaho) Junior College and a two-time all-Big Sky selection at Gonzaga, Morrill played professionally in Europe.

His coaching career began as an assistant at Gonzaga from 1975-78 and then to Montana where he was an assistant from 1979-86 working for Mike Montgomery, who spent 17 years as the head coach at Stanford and is now the head coach at California. Montgomery worked under Jim Brandenburg and Jud Heathcote, who retired after a successful career, which included a national championship at Michigan State.

Morrill took over the Montana program in 1987 before moving to Colorado State in 1992. He is known for his deep-rooted values, consistency, hard work, dedication, honesty, integrity and concern for the welfare of his student-athletes.

Morrill earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from Gonzaga in 1974. He was born July 25, 1952 in Provo, Utah.

He and his wife Vicki have four grown children; sons Jesse and Allan, and daughters Nicole and Tiffany, and five grandchildren.

Entering his 12th year at Utah State is Tim Duryea (pronounced Dur-E-A), who joined the Aggie coaching staff in July, 2001. Duryea, who was promoted to associate coach following the 2008 season, is the longest tenured assistant coach in school history dating back to the 1959 season.

While at Utah State, Duryea spent his first seven seasons in charge of an Aggie defense that traditionally ranked among the top in the nation in points allowed, including a fourth-place finish in 2002 (58.1), a sixth-place finish in 2004 (58.1), an eighth-place finish in 2005 (57.8), and a ninth-place finish in 2003 (60.0).

During the 2008-09 season, Duryea took the reins of the Aggie offense and USU finished the year as the nation's best shooting team (.496), while ranking 17th in three-point shooting (.394). In the 2009-10 season, USU ranked third nationally in three-point shooting (.414), ninth in overall shooting (.488) and 10th in free throw shooting (.758), and was the only team in the nation to rank among the top 10 in all three shooting categories. Along with his offensive coaching duties, Duryea also works with USU's post players.

Prior to joining the Aggies, Duryea was the head coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College from 2000-01. During his two years at the helm, his teams produced a 40-25 record and back-to-back trips to the Region Six Championships.

A 1988 graduate of the University of North Texas, Duryea began his coaching career in 1988 at Colorado State University before moving on to North Texas in 1993. Duryea then went to Hutchinson Community College as an assistant coach for two seasons before becoming the head coach there prior to the 1999-2000 season.

Duryea played basketball at Denton (Texas) High School and Texas Pan-American before transferring to North Texas. At UNT, Duryea was a co-captain in 1988 for one of only three teams in school history to advance to the NCAA Tournament.

He was born in Medicine Lodge, Kan., on Nov. 16, 1964. He and his wife Angie have 17-year old twins, Tanner (son) and Taylor (daughter) and a 10-year old daughter (Kaylee).

2011-12 SEASON IN REVIEW

Following one of the most successful years in school history, the 2011-12 men's basketball season was filled with obstacles and challenges for Utah State and veteran head coach Stew Morrill.

First, Utah State had to find a way to replace four starters and six seniors from a group who had won four-straight Western Athletic Conference regular season championships and made three-straight trips to the NCAA Tournament. Second, USU had to overcome a career-ending injury to its most experienced player as the year was just beginning. And third, Utah State had the lofty expectations of multiple 20-win seasons and postseason appearances resting firmly on its shoulders, despite having just one active player with extensive Division I experience on its roster.

Despite all of those obstacles and challenges facing this group of Aggies, who were mostly made up of newcomers and unproven players, Utah State continued its storied basketball history by securing its 13th-straight 20-win season and participating in its 13th-straight postseason as it advanced to the championship game of the CollegeInsider.com Tournament.

But it wasn't easy.

Leading the way for Utah State heading into the 2011-12 season was the WAC's Pre-season Player of the Year according to the media in senior point guard Brockeith Pane. USU also had three other letterwinners returning from the previous year's NCAA Tournament team in senior forwards Brady Jardine and Morgan Grim, and junior guard E.J. Farris. However, outside of Jardine and Pane, USU's experience was in theory only as neither Grim nor Farris saw significant minutes in their first seasons as Aggies.

Utah State began the 2011-12 campaign with perhaps its best win of the year as it defeated in-state rival Brigham Young (69-62) at home. USU also recorded a home win against Southern Utah (65-62) in its third game of the year, despite losing Jardine to his season-ending injury, followed by a road win at Idaho State (75-62) in late November.

As the calendar turned to December, Utah State notched another in-state win at home against Utah Valley (63-54) to go along with a home victory against Seattle (78-53), followed by home wins against UT Arlington (73-69), Saint Peter's (72-47) and Kent State (81-62) to win its own Athletes in Action Classic, sponsored by Gossner Foods.

Following a two-point loss at 15th-ranked Mississippi State (66-64) to close out the calendar year, Utah State began defense of its four-straight regular season WAC titles with a home win against Fresno State (72-53). USU also recorded a road win at Louisiana Tech (69-65) and finished its first month of league play by defeating both Hawai'i (77-72) and San Jose State (82-65) at home.

In February, Utah State defeated Louisiana Tech (77-63), Montana Tech (70-58) and Idaho (67-50) at home, and then concluded WAC play with a road sweep of San Jose State (71-61) and Hawai'i (61-60) to finish in fourth-place in the conference with an 8-6 mark.

For the first time in five years, Utah State was not the top seed heading into the WAC Tournament and lost to fifth-seeded Louisiana Tech (72-70) in the quarterfinals, marking just the third time in the past 13 years that USU has not played in the championship game of its conference's tournament.

Despite its early exit in the WAC Tournament and fourth-place finish in the league during the regular season, Utah State's year was far from over as it accepted a bid to participate in the fourth-annual CollegeInsider.com Postseason Tournament (CIT), extending its postseason run to 13 straight years.

Utah State, which hosted all five of its games during its CIT appearance, began its historic postseason run with a 75-69 win against CSU Bakersfield, followed by a 76-56 victory against WAC rival Idaho in the second round. USU then played one of its best games of the year to defeat Loyola Marymount, 77-69, before crushing Oakland University, 105-81, to advance to the championship game of the CIT where it lost to Mercer, 70-67, to finish the year with a 21-16 record.

Even with its loss to Mercer in the championship game of the CIT, Utah State's four postseason wins were the most in a single-season in school history as it played in its first-ever postseason tournament championship game. Furthermore, those four postseason wins extended USU's current run of 20-win seasons to 13 straight. In fact, Utah State is one just five schools across the nation to win at least 21

With team success comes individual recognition and Utah State had three players recognized for their accomplishments throughout the course of the year in Pane, sophomore guard Preston Medlin and junior forward Kylesean Reed.

For the 13th straight season, USU had at least one player earn first-team all-league honors as Medlin was named to the WAC's first team, marking just the second time in school history that a sophomore earned first-team all-conference honors along with Nate Harris (2004). Pane was also honored, as he was named to the WAC's honorable mention team after earning first-team all-league honors as a junior, while Reed was named to the league's all-newcomer team.

Medlin finished his sophomore season leading the team and ranking third in the WAC in scoring at 17.0 points per game. In fact, Medlin finished the year with 628 points to rank as the 10th-most in a single-season in school history and the second-most in a single-season by an underclassman. Furthermore, Medlin became just the sixth sophomore in school history to lead his team in scoring.

Medlin also finished the 2011-12 season ranking second in the WAC and 16th in the nation in three-point shooting at 42.8 percent. He also ranked fourth in the league in free throw shooting (.801), seventh in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.70), ninth in assists (3.35) and 10th in overall shooting (.496).

Pane finished the year ranking second on the team in scoring with 12.6 points per game. He also ranked fifth in the WAC in assists (4.30), seventh in free throw shooting (.777) and ninth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.49).

Overall, Pane finished his senior season with 159 assists to rank eighth all-time in school history for a single-season, while his 275 career assists ranks 17th all-time at Utah State.

Reed was the team's third-leading scorer at 10.0 points per game. Overall, he finished

Preston Medlin earned first-team all-WAC honors during his sophomore year as he averaged 17.0 points, 4.4 rebounds and 3.4 assists per game. Medlin was also named to the NABC District 6 second team in 2012.

Brock Keith Pane earned honorable mention all-WAC honors as he averaged 12.6 points and 4.3 assists during his senior year.

his junior season leading the WAC in field goal percentage at 61.4 percent which also ranks eighth all-time at Utah State for a single-season. Reed also ranked sixth in the WAC in blocked shots (1.14) as his 41 total blocks during the year are tied for the ninth-most in a single-season in school history. Reed also ranked 14th in the WAC in rebounding (5.1) and ended the season with a team-leading 40 dunks.

Along with its year-ending awards, Utah State also had two players earn WAC Player of the Week honors during the 2011-12 season as Pane won the award on Nov. 14 after leading USU to a season-opening home win against BYU as he had 21 points, five assists and four rebounds. Medlin was named the WAC Player of the Week on Jan. 30 after leading USU to a pair of home wins against Hawai'i and San Jose State. For the week, Medlin averaged 20.0 points, 3.5 rebounds, 3.0 assists and 1.0 steals per game as he had 25 points against the Rainbow Warriors and 15 against the Spartans.

Utah State also had three players named to the CIT's all-tournament team in Medlin, Pane and senior forward Morgan Grim. Medlin averaged 21.4 points and 6.4 rebounds during the five games, while Pane averaged 13.8 points and 6.6 assists, and Grim averaged 12.8 points and 7.0 rebounds.

For all of his success and accomplishments during the 2011-12 season, Medlin was named a second-team all-district 6 selection by the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

Once again, opposing teams found out just how hard it is to play at one of the best basketball venues in the West in the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. Utah State went 17-5 at home during the 2011-12 season and set a new single-season school record for games played with 22. USU also tied the single-season school record for home wins with 17 as it has now won 17 home games in each of its last five years. In fact, prior to its current run USU had never won more than 15 home games in a single year. USU also led the WAC in attendance in 2012 averaging 8,406 fans per game, including three sellouts during the season.

As for Coach Morrill, he has now won at least 20 games 17 times in his career and at least 17 games 23 times. In his 14 years at USU, he has posted an amazing 345-119 (.744) record, including a 175-55 (.761) league mark and a 25-8 (.758) record in conference tournaments.

Overall, Utah State finished the 2011-12 season ranking 24th in the nation in field goal percentage (.475), 59th in fewest turnovers per game (12.1), 66th in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.11), 67th in three-point field goal percentage (.367), 80th in free throw shooting (.719) and 96th in field goal percentage defense (.415).

Utah State had several statistical categories that ranked among the top 10 in school history for a single-season, including setting a record for games played with 37, bettering the previous record of 35 set four different times, including most recently during the 2009-10 season. USU also had several other categories this year that ranked among the top 10 all-time including ranking third in three-pointers attempted (566), fourth in three-pointers made (208), sixth
