AGGIE OUTLOOK

"As always, we expect to execute offensively. We don't ever take it for granted, but that has been something that has been very consistent through the years in our program, and this group has the potential to be a very good offensive executing team. I think we'll be balanced scoring wise, I think we'll have good passers, guys who are used to winning, and guys who understand the system. All of those things should be solid. We've also made some strides on the defensive end and rebounding against the athletic teams we see in the WAC, and that was the biggest change from the Big West to the WAC was the size and quickness of the players. We've done a better job of handling that and those areas will really be stressed again this year as always." --- USU head coach Stew Morrill.

With four starters returning who have a combined 186 career starts and 239 games played under their belts, and four more reserves with a combined 136 games played, expectations for Utah State may be even higher than normal heading into the 2009-10 season. But expectations have become the norm for Aggie basketball under veteran head coach Stew Morrill, and this year's team will be no different after winning a school record 30 games last year and notching its second-straight Western Athletic Conference Championship.

"We always have expectations at Utah State," said Morrill. "That's something that we've learned to live with and understand through the years. When you are fortunate enough to go to 10-straight postseasons, fans expect you to have a quality basketball team, and we expect to compete for a WAC championship every year. Obviously you would like to grow, and in a perfect world, make some strides in terms of postseason play, but all of that is kind of ludicrous to talk about because it is challenging enough to try and get to postseason."

Despite the challenge of advancing to postseason play from a non-BCS league, Utah State has thrived under Coach Morrill as it has advanced to 10 straight postseasons (6-NCAA, 4-NIT), which is a school record. USU is also one of just three programs in the nation to win at least 23 games in each of the last 10 years along with Gonzaga and Kansas, and has the fourth-best winning percentage in the country during that time period at 76.4 percent (252-78). USU has also averaged 25.2 wins in each of the last 10 years and its streak of 10 straight postseasons ranks tied for the 15th-longest active streak in the nation.

The reason Utah State has been so dominate during the past decade has been the approach, discipline and leadership established and maintained by Coach Morrill, who is the second-longest tenured and the winningest coach in 106 years of Aggie basketball. Entering his 12th season at the helm of the Aggie program, Morrill owns a gaudy 267-91 (.746) record, which includes a 138-46 (.750) conference mark and a 21-6 (.778) record in conference tournament play. He has also been awarded conference coach of the year honors on three separate occasions during his time at USU, including being named the 2009 WAC and United States Basketball Writers Association District VIII Coach of the Year.

"Honestly, when I hear those numbers it kind of overwhelms me to believe it's happened, how many things have had to go right for it to happen, and the contributions of so many people in our program," said Morrill. "If I was to point to one thing that has been the key to all of our success I would say it is the quality of the individuals we have had playing in this program, along with their character and ability."

Character and ability shouldn't be a concern for Coach Morrill heading into the 2009-10 season as USU returns a quartet of starters in senior point guard Jared Quayle, junior forward Tai Wesley, and junior guards Tyler Newbold and Pooh Williams. Quayle earned second-team all-WAC honors and was named to the league's all-newcomer team in 2009 as he averaged 13.1 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.7 assists per game, while Wesley averaged 12.0 points and 6.0 rebounds in his second year as a starter and was named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) second-team. Newbold averaged 9.0 points, 4.2 rebounds and 3.2 assists in his second year as a starter as well, and led the nation with an assist-to-turnover ratio of 3.96-to-1.00, and Williams averaged 5.9 points and 1.9 rebounds per game while starting 31 games during the season.

Along with its four returning starters, Utah State will also have the services of four more letterwinners in junior forward Matt Formisano, redshirt sophomore center Modou Niang, and sophomores Brady Jardine (forward) and Jaxon Myaer (guard). Formisano, who has played in 56 games during his USU career, averaged 3.2 points and 2.2 rebounds a year ago, while Niang was averaging 2.6 points and 2.6 rebounds per game in 2009 before breaking his hand which forced him to miss the remainder of the season. Jardine, whose redshirt was pulled following Niang's injury, appeared in 22 games as a true freshman and averaged 1.8 points and 2.9 rebounds per game, while Myaer started the first six games of the year at the point and finished the season by averaging 3.6 points and 1.0 assists per game.

"The experience we have returning is extremely positive, but you temper that a bit with how much experience returns in the WAC and the loss of Gary Wilkinson, who was not only the MVP of the regular season, but the postseason tournament as well," Morrill added.

Even with all the experience and depth returning for Utah State this year, Morrill and the Aggies will have to find a quality replacement for the reigning WAC Player of the Year in Gary Wilkinson, who averaged 17.1 points and 6.8 rebounds during his senior campaign, and someone to replace swingman Stavon Williams who averaged 6.0 points per game off the bench in his one season at USU.

Among the list of newcomers who will be looking to fill holes and find playing time for Utah State this year will two junior college transfers and four high school players.

Two of these newcomers who should play prominent roles early on for Utah State are junior forward Nate Bendall and junior guard Brian Green, who are both transfers from Salt Lake Community College. Bendall earned first-team all-region honors and averaged 14.4 points and 6.4 rebounds as a sophomore at SLCC as he helped led the Bruins to a 31-6 record and the NJCAA National Championship. Green spent two years at SLCC (2007-08) and also earned first-team all-region honors as a sophomore as he averaged 14.1 points and led the Bruins to a 32-4 record and a NJCAA national runner-up finish.

Highlighting the nucleus of high school players is a pair of wings in Preston Medlin and Tyrone White and at least one of these players will have to provide USU with quality minutes in their first season at the collegiate level. Medlin ranked as the 43rd-best prep player in Texas by Texas Hoops as a prep senior and averaged 22.5 points per game, while White averaged approximately 16.0 points, 8.0 rebounds and 4.0 assists per game this past season at the Air Force Academy Prep School.

Utah State will also have the services of a pair of walk-on guards in Preston Eaton and Chandler Smith, while junior forward Morgan Grimm must sit out the 2009-10 season after transferring from the University of Utah.

As for the Western Athletic Conference, Utah State will be looking to defend both its regular season and tournament championship, and knows it will get everybody's best shot throughout the year.

"There should be great parity in the WAC this year and every game is going to be a challenge to try and find wins," said Morrill. "This could be as balanced as the league has been in the five years we have been in it and it should be fun. Staying healthy, staying strong mentally, showing your character and getting better as the season progresses will all be important. This year has the potential to provide everyone with a great WAC season."

POINT GUARDS

Preston Eaton, 6-0, 170, Fr., HS

Jaxon Myaer, 5-9, 165, So., 1L

*Jared Quayle, 6-1, 180, Sr., 1L

* - returning starter

After earning second-team all-WAC and all-newcomer team honors in his first year at Utah State, senior Jared Quayle will once again lead the most efficient offensive attack in college basketball. Quayle, who was also named an honorable mention All-American by CollegeHoops.net as a junior, started 33 games during the season including the final 29 at the point, and finished the year by scoring in double-figures in 24 of his final 28 games. Along with averaging 13.1 points, 6.0 rebounds and 3.7 assists per game, Quayle shot 46.5 percent from the field, 38.8 percent from three-point range, and 76.4 percent from the free throw line, and concluded the season by ranking third in the WAC in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.05), sixth in steals (1.43) and assists, seventh in free throw shooting, eighth in three-point shooting, 11th in scoring, and 12th in rebounding. Along with Quayle, Utah State also returns its backup point guard in sophomore Jaxon Myaer, who started the first six games of the 2008-09 season and played in 32. As a redshirt freshman, Myaer averaged 3.6 points and 1.0 assists in 11.9 minutes per game, while shooting 44.4 percent from the field, 39.0 percent from three-point range, and 76.5 percent from the free throw line. USU's third point guard going into the fall will be freshman walk-on Preston Eaton who earned first-team all-state honors as a prep senior at Springville (Utah) High School in 2006 as he led the state in scoring with an average of 23.4 points per game.

SHOOTING GUARDS

Brian Green, 6-1, 195, Jr., JC

Preston Medlin, 6-3, 165, Fr., HS

*Tyler Newbold, 6-4, 200, Jr., 2L

Chandler Smith, 6-2, 185, Fr., HS

* - returning starter

Utah State returns one of its most experienced players at shooting guard in junior Tyler Newbold who has played in 70 games during his first two years at USU, including starting 60 straight. During his sophomore season, Newbold led the nation in assist-to-turnover ratio (3.96) as he had 111 assists, to rank second on the team, and just 28 turnovers. He finished the season by averaging 9.0 points and 4.2 rebounds, while shooting 43.1 percent from the field, 39.5 percent from three-point range, and 76.2 percent from the free throw line. As a sophomore, Newbold led the team in minutes played (1134), and three-pointers made (60) and attempted (152), and ranked seventh in the WAC in three-point shooting and 10th in assists (3.2). Backing up Newbold this year will most likely be junior Brian Green who transferred to USU from Salt Lake (Utah) Community College. As a sophomore at SLCC during the 2007-08 season, Green earned first-team all-region honors as he averaged 14.1 points and shot 48.1 percent from the field, 47.2 percent from three-point range, and 89.8 percent from the free throw line. Green was also named to the NJCAA all-tournament team as a sophomore as he led the Bruins to a 32-4 record and a national runner-up finish. Green could potentially see time at the point guard as well if need. Another player who could figure into the mix this season at the shooting guard position is freshman Preston Medlin who averaged 22.5 points as a prep senior at Hebron High School in Carrollton, Texas, while shooting 53.0 percent from the field, 44.0 percent from three-point range, and 76.0 percent from the free throw line. USU will also have the services of another freshman here in walk-on Chandler Smith who earned second-team all-state honors as both a junior and senior at Mountain Crest High School in Hyrum, Utah.

SMALL FORWARDS

Tyrone White, 6-6, 175, Fr., HS
*Pooh Williams, 6-3, 200, Jr., 2L
* - returning starter

Utah State returns its most athletic player at the small forward position in junior Pooh Williams who started 31 games as a sophomore and averaged 5.9 points and 1.9 rebounds, while shooting 46.4 percent from the field, 38.5 percent from three-point range, and 68.1 percent from three throw line. Williams, who is USU's best perimeter defender, played an average of 24.6 minutes per game a year ago, and scored in double-figures seven times during the season. Freshman Tyrone White joins Williams at this position and should contribute right away after averaging 16.0 points and 8.0 rebounds at the Air Force Academy Prep School a year ago, while scoring 30-plus points four times. Newbold could also see time at this position after playing both wings a year ago.

POWER FORWARDS

Matt Formisano, 6-8, 235, Jr., 2L
Morgan Grimm, 6-8, 220, Jr., TR
Brady Jardine, 6-7, 220, So., 1L
*Tai Wesley, 6-7, 240, Jr., 2L
* - returning starter

Utah State returns its most experience on the team at the power forward position with three contributors back from a year ago including two-year starter Tai Wesley who has played in 70 games and started 59 during his first two seasons at USU. As a sophomore, Wesley averaged 12.0 points and 6.0 rebounds, while finishing second in the WAC in field goal shooting at 59.2 percent and 11th in rebounding. Wesley, who was named to the WAC's all-tournament team as a sophomore along with earning second-team NABC All-District honors, scored in double-figures 26 times during the year and posted four double-doubles. Joining Wesley are two other quality players in junior Matt Formisano and sophomore Brady Jardine. Formisano has played in 56 games during his first two years at USU, and as a sophomore he averaged 3.2 points and 2.2 rebounds in 12.8 minutes per game, while shooting 48.0 percent from the field. Jardine played in 22 games in his first year at USU and averaged 1.8 points and 2.9 rebounds in 7.7 minutes per game. USU also welcomes Morgan Grimm to the program after spending two years at the University of Utah where he played in 42 games and started four during his sophomore season. Prior to his collegiate career, Grimm was named Utah's Mr. Basketball as a prep senior at Riverton (Utah) High School as he averaged nearly 23.0 points per game. Grimm will redshirt this year at USU as a Division I transfer.

CENTERS

Nate Bendall, 6-8, 245, Jr., JC
Modou Niang, 6-10, 220, R-So., 1L

Utah State's biggest question mark heading into the 2009-10 season is who will start in place of the WAC's Player of the Year last season in Gary Wilkinson who averaged 17.1 points and 6.8 rebounds per game and finished the year ranking second in the conference in scoring and free throw shooting, fourth in field goal shooting, and sixth in rebounding. The leading candidate to fill this position is junior Nate Bendall who transferred to USU from Salt Lake (Utah) Community College. As a sophomore at SLCC, Bendall averaged 14.4 points and 6.4 rebounds, while shooting 56.1 percent from the field and 68.9 percent from three-point range. Bendall was also named to the NJCAA All-Tournament team as he helped led the Bruins to a 31-6 record and a National Championship. Bendall already has some familiarity with the program as he spent his freshman season (2005-06) at Utah State and appeared in 13 games, averaging 2.4 points and 1.5 rebounds. Despite losing Wilkinson to graduation, USU does return some experience at this position in red-shirt sophomore Modou Niang who played in eight games last year before missing the rest of the season with a broken hand. During his first two years at USU, Niang has played in 26 games and averaged 1.2 points and 1.6 rebounds. Other players who could also see time at this position include Formisano and Wesley.

STEW MORRILL

- Head Coach (Entering 12th Season at Utah State)
- Alma Mater (Gonzaga, 1974)
- Record at Utah State (267-91, .746)
- Overall Record (485-229, .679, 23 Seasons)

Entering his 24th season as a collegiate head coach and 12th year at Utah State, Stew Morrill has established himself as one of the most respected coaches in the country. He is also the school's all-time winningest coach as he passed the legendary E. Lowell Romney's 225 career USU wins on Jan. 17, 2008 with an 82-78 win against Boise State.

In 11 years as Utah State's head coach, Morrill has taken the Aggie Basketball program to unprecedented heights leading USU to an incredible 267-91 (.746) record, including a 138-46 (.750) conference mark in the Big West and WAC.

While at Utah State, he has guided the Aggies to 10 straight 20-win seasons and 10 straight postseason appearances (NCAA-6, NIT-4), both of which are school records. Prior to Coach Morrill's current run, USU had never posted more than three straight 20-win seasons and participated in more than three straight postseason tournaments.

During the last 10 years, Utah State is also one of just three teams in the nation to win at least 23 games in each of those seasons, along with Gonzaga and Kansas.

Morrill has also led Utah State to the fourth-best winning percentage in the nation during the last 10 years at 76.4 percent with an overall record of 252-78. Against conference opponents, Utah State has a 159-52 record with five regular season league championships and five tournament titles during that time, including appearances in its league's tournament championship game eight times in the last 10 years.

Under Morrill, Utah State has notched 10 of the top 12 seasons in school history as the Aggies set a school record with 28 wins during the 2000 season, tied that record with 28 wins during the 2001 season and set a new school record with 30 wins in 2009.

During the 2008-09 season, Morrill guided Utah State to its second-straight WAC regular season championship, including its first outright title with a 14-2 record, its first WAC Tournament championship, and the school's 18th NCAA Tournament appearance. USU also won 24 of its first 25 games for the best start to a season in school history, tied the school record for consecutive wins with 19, and was ranked in the top 25 for three straight weeks during the month of February, marking just the second time in the last 31 years that a USU team has been nationally ranked.

Furthermore, the 2008-09 Aggie basketball team led the nation in overall shooting at 49.6 percent and became just the eighth team in the history of the NCAA to lead the nation in field goal shooting in consecutive seasons, and the first since UCLA accomplished the feat in 1996 and 1997. The Aggies also ranked among the top 18 in the nation in eight other statistical categories including fifth in winning percentage (.857), sixth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.44), and 10th in fewest turnovers committed per game (11.2).

For the 10th straight year, USU had at least one player earn first-team all-league accolades as senior forward Gary Wilkinson became just the fifth player in school history to earn conference player of the year honors. Wilkinson was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2009 WAC Tournament, and was also named an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press.

Morrill was also honored during the 2008-09 season and was named the WAC Coach of the Year, as well as being named the District VIII Coach of the Year by the United States Basketball Writers Association.

All-time, Morrill has been named Coach of the Year (2000 BWC, 2002 BWC, 2009 WAC) three times in his 11 years at USU, along with winning the Big Sky award while the head coach at Montana in 1991.

Overall, Morrill has coached 11 first-team all-league players at Utah State who have won the award a total of 16 times.

Morrill has also taken full advantage of the home court at USU, the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. In Morrill's 11 years, USU is an amazing 159-12 (.930) at home, which includes a 84-8 (.913) record in league play.

As for Morrill, he has won 20 or more games on 14 different occasions during his career, and he has won at least 17 games 20 times.

Overall, Morrill ranks 22nd in the nation among active coaches and 88th all-time with his 485 career wins, while his career winning percentage of 67.9 percent ranks 27th among active coaches and 96th all-time. He is also one of 22 active coaches with 450 career wins at the Division I level and one of just 13 active coaches to notch at least 14 20-win seasons. His current streak of 10 straight 20-win seasons ranks tied for eighth among active coaches and is tied for the 11th-longest streak ever at the Division I level.

Academics and community service have been of top priority to Morrill and his staff as all of the team members are involved with USU's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program within the community. In his 11 years, Morrill has graduated better than 80 percent of his players, and over the past seven years, Utah State has had 17 academic all-conference honorees.

Morrill, who was born in Provo, Utah and attended Provo High School, owns a career record of 485-229 in 23 years of collegiate coaching, including a 267-91 record at Utah State in 11 years, a 121-86 record in seven years at Colorado State (1992-98) and a 97-52 mark in five campaigns at Montana (1987-91).

"There are several reasons that I was attracted to Utah State," Morrill said when he was hired. "The first was being a Utah native so that it is a homecoming of sorts for me. My mom, brother and sister all live within an hour and a half of Logan.

"I am very familiar with the tradition of Utah State basketball and can name the greats as well as any alumni could," Morrill added. "It is a good basketball situation and the premier job in the Big West Conference. My family will love the quality of the community of Logan. It is a great place to live and that is very important to me and my family. It just made sense to us."

The 56-year old ranks second on the CSU victory list and second in winning percentage. He guided the Rams to back-to-back 20-win seasons the last two years in Fort Collins, with identical 20-9 marks. During the 1997-98 season, CSU made its second trip to the NIT in the last three years.

Morrill guided CSU to two of its six all-time 20-win seasons and won at least 17 games five times in his seven years. In fact, Morrill-led CSU teams own three of the top seven winning seasons in school history.

During his tenure at Colorado State, he coached three first-team all-WAC selections, one second-team pick and six honorable mention choices. Three of his players were named to the WAC all-tournament team.

After his collegiate playing career, which included being named an All-American at nearby Ricks (Idaho) Junior College and a two-time all-Big Sky selection at Gonzaga, Morrill played professionally in Europe.

His coaching career began as an assistant at Gonzaga from 1975-78 and then to Montana where he was an assistant from 1979-86 working for Mike Montgomery, who spent 17 years as the head coach at Stanford and is now the head coach at California. Montgomery worked under Jim Brandenburg and Jud Heathcote, who retired after a successful career, which included a national championship at Michigan State.

Morrill took over the Montana program in 1987 before moving to Colorado State in 1992. He is known for his deep-rooted values, consistency, hard work, dedication, honesty, integrity and concern for the welfare of his student-athletes.

Morrill earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from Gonzaga in 1974. He was born July 25, 1952 in Provo, Utah.

He and his wife Vicki have four children; sons Jesse (31) and Allan (29) and daughters Nicole (26) and Tiffany (23).

Entering his ninth year at Utah State is Tim Duryea (pronounced Dur-E-A), who joined the Aggie coaching staff in July, 2001. Duryea, who was promoted to associate coach following the 2008 season, is the second-longest tenured assistant coach in school history dating back to the 1959 season.

While at Utah State, Duryea spent his first seven seasons in charge of an Aggie defense that traditionally ranked among the top in the nation in points allowed, including a fourth-place finish in 2002 (58.1), a sixth-place finish in 2004 (58.1), an eighth-place finish in 2005 (57.8), and a ninth-place finish in 2003 (60.0).

Prior to joining the Aggies, Duryea was the head coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College from 2000-01. During his two years at the helm, his teams produced a 40-25 record and back-to-back trips to the Region Six Championships.

Duryea then went to Hutchinson Community College as an assistant coach for two seasons before becoming the head coach there prior to the 1999-2000 season.

Duryea played basketball at Denton (Texas) High School and Texas Pan-American before transferring to North Texas. At UNT, Duryea was a co-captain in 1988 for one of only two teams in school history to advance to the NCAA Tournament.

He was born in Medicine Lodge, Kan., on Nov. 16, 1964. He and his wife Angie have 14-year old twins, Tanner (son) and Taylor (daughter) and a seven-year old daughter (Kaylee).

SEASON IN REVIEW

Simply put, Utah State's 2008-09 basketball season was one of the greatest in school history. Some might even say it was magical. Regardless of how you clarify it, the '08-09 campaign was one for the ages with a list of accomplishments a mile long.

And what a list it was as Utah State won 24 of its first 25 games, tied a school record with 19 straight wins, was nationally ranked for fourth weeks, won both the Western Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championship, set a school record with 30 wins, and advanced to its 18th NCAA Tournament all-time.

Entering the 2008-09 season, Utah State and head coach Stew Morrill had high expectations – they always do – as it returned three starters and six lettermen from a team that went 24-11 overall, claimed a share of its first-ever WAC regular season championship, and participated in the National Invitation Tournament.

Among those returning for Utah State was senior forward Gary Wilkinson who was named the WAC's preseason player of the year after earning second-team all-league honors the previous season. Along with Wilkinson, USU returned two other proven starters in sophomore guard Tyler Newbold and sophomore forward Tai Wesley, to go along with fellow sophomore returnees in forward Matt Formisano, center Modou Niang and guard Pooh Williams.

Despite a solid nucleus returning, Utah State was not the preseason favorite to win the WAC and was picked to finish second in the league behind Nevada. The reason many had questions concerning this group of Aggies was how would Utah State perform without the school's all-time leading scorer and two-time All-American in Jaycee Carroll who graduated as USU's career leader in 10 statistical categories.

Utah State answered those questions early on in the 2008-09 season by winning its first five games as it defeated the likes of Weber State, Cal Poly and UC Irvine at home, and UC Santa Barbara on the road before losing to Brigham Young in Salt Lake City in a game played at EnergySolutions Arena.

Following its first loss of the season, Utah

State began its school-record tying 19-game winning streak with three straight road victories at Utah Valley, Southern Utah and Idaho State. USU then returned home and began a season-long five-game homestand with a 66-64 win against eventual Mountain

West Conference Champion Utah. The Aggies then defeated Howard, Houston Baptist and Wyoming in its own Duel in the Desert Tournament Classic to improve to 12-1 on the year heading into conference play.

Utah State began the WAC portion of its schedule with a nine-point win against Idaho and then recorded a pair of double-digit road wins at Louisiana Tech and New Mexico State the following weekend to give USU an early 3-0 WAC record and visions of another conference championship.

Utah State returned home and defeated Fresno State and Boise State to push its winning streak to 12 straight games, and then finished the month of January in style with four more victories as it won a pair of road games at San Jose State and Hawai'i, its first-ever win on the Islands, defeated preseason favorite Nevada at home by double-digits, and recorded an improbable overtime win at Fresno State.

Owners of the nation's longest winning streak with its 16-straight victories, Utah State began the month of February as the feel-good story in the nation and received plenty of national exposure from the New York Times, the Boston Globe, ESPN The Magazine, the USA Today, and Sports Illustrated who made a visit to the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum on February 7 as USU played Louisiana Tech.

Utah State also entered the national rankings during the first week of February as it was ranked 22nd in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches poll and 25th in the Associated Press poll, marking the second time in the last five years that USU has been nationally ranked.

With all the fan fare and hoopla surrounding Aggie Basketball, Utah State continued to take care of business on the court as it defeated both New Mexico State and Louisiana Tech at home during the first weekend of February and climbed to No. 17 in the coaches poll and 21st in the AP poll the following week.

With 18-straight wins under its belt, Utah State had to play four of its next six games on the road and began that stretch by posting a nine-point win at Idaho to record its 19th-straight victory to tie a school record. USU also improved to 12-0 in WAC play with the win and claimed a share of its second-straight regular season league title with four weeks remaining in the regular season.

Two nights later, Utah State had all of its winning streaks come to an end, losing at Boise State. Following two non-conference games against Cal State Bakersfield and Saint Mary's, Utah State returned home and defeated Hawai'i, 82-62, to win the WAC's outright regular season championship. USU then concluded regular season play the following weekend with a 12-point win against San Jose State to finish conference play with a 14-2 record and received the top seed heading into the 2009 WAC Tournament in

With a NCAA Tournament bid at stake, Utah State entered the 2009 WAC Tournament determined to finish its magical ride in style. The Aggies began the three-day event with a convincing 85-68 win against Fresno State in the quarterfinals, and then rallied from a 13-point halftime deficit to upend New Mexico State, 71-70, in the semifinals as Newbold hit the game-winner with 3.1 seconds to play. USU then dominated the host Wolf Pack in the championship game and defeated Nevada, 72-62, to advance to its 18th NCAA Tournament all-time, including its sixth in the last 10 years under Coach Morrill.

With a 30-4 record and its first-ever WAC Tournament Championship, Utah State was given an 11-seed in the West Region and sent to Boise, Idaho to face sixth-seeded Marquette in the first round, where it lost to the Golden Eagles, 58-57.

Despite its heartbreaking loss in the NCAA Tournament, the 2008-09 season was another successful campaign under Coach Morrill as USU advanced to its 10th straight postseason tournament (6-NCAA, 4-NIT) and posted its 10th straight 23-win season, extending its current school records in each category.

With team success comes individual recognition and Utah State had two players recognized for their accomplishments throughout the course of the season in Wilkinson and junior guard Jared Quayle. For the 10th straight season, USU had at least one player earn first-team all-conference honors as Wilkinson was named to the WAC's first-team, along with becoming just the fifth player in school history to receive conference player of the year honors. Quayle was also honored by the league, as he was named second-team all-WAC and to the conference's all-newcomer team.

Wilkinson finished his senior season ranking first on the team in both scoring (17.1) and rebounding (6.8), and was second in minutes played (32.1). He also ranked second in the conference in scoring and free throw shooting (.826), fourth in field goal shooting (.580), and sixth in rebounding, and concluded his career with 1,058 points to rank 28th all-time in USU history.

Quayle finished the year ranking second on the team and 11th in the WAC in scoring

Senior forward Gary Wilkinson was named the WAC Player of the Year in 2009 after averaging 17.1 points and 6.8 rebounds per game. He also earned honorable mention All-American honors from the Associated Press and was named the MVP of the WAC Tournament.

Junior guard Jared Quayle earned second-team all-WAC honors and was named to the league's all-newcomer team in 2009 after averaging 13.1 points and 6.0 rebounds.

with 13.1 points per game. He also ranked third in the conference in assist-to-turnover ratio (2.05), sixth in both assists (3.74) and steals (1.43), seventh in free throw shooting (.764), eighth in three-point shooting (.388), and 12th in rebounding (6.0).

Along with being named the WAC's Player of the Year, Wilkinson also earned WAC Player of the Week honors three times during the course of the season, while Quayle won the award once. Wilkinson's first honor came after the first game of the year as he scored a then career-high 24 points to go along with 12 rebounds in USU's 71-50 win against Montana State-Northern. His second honor came in December after leading the Aggies to a pair of wins against Weber State and Cal Poly as he averaged 19.5 points, 7.5 rebounds and 2.5 assists, while shooting 75.0 percent from the field and 88.2 percent from the free throw line. Wilkinson's third player of the week award came in February after a pair of home wins against New Mexico State and Louisiana Tech as he recorded his fifth double-double of the season with 18 points and 11 rebounds against NMSU, and had 16 points and five rebounds against LTU.

Quayle was named the WAC's Player of the Week in December after being named the Most Valuable Player of the Duel in the Desert hosted by Utah State. During the three-day tournament, Quayle recorded double-doubles against both Howard (17p, 11r) and Wyoming (24p, 10r), and averaged 18.7 points, 9.0 rebounds and 4.7 assists, while shooting 53.8 percent from the field, 41.2 percent from three-point range, and 87.5 percent from the free throw line.

Utah State also had three players named to the WAC's all-tournament team in Quayle, Wesley and Wilkinson. Wilkinson was named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament as he averaged 19.3 points and 4.7 rebounds, while Quayle averaged 13.3 points, 8.3 rebounds and 3.3 assists, and Wesley averaged 10.0 points, 8.7 rebounds and 4.7 assists.

Newbold also had an outstanding season for Utah State as he led the nation with an assist-to-turnover ratio of 3.96-to-1.00, which was also a school record. He finished the year averaging 9.0 points, 4.2 rebounds, and 3.2 assists per game.

For all of his success and accomplishments during the 2008-09 season, Wilkinson was named an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press, marking the third straight year that USU has had a player garner All-America honors. Wilkinson was also named an All-American by Collegehoops.net, as was Quayle, and Wilkinson earned all-district honors from both the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) and the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

Quayle and Wesley were also honored by the NABC as both were named second-team all-district. Wesley concluded his season ranking second in the WAC in field goal shooting (.592), and averaged 12.0 points, 6.0 rebounds, and 2.7 assists per game.

Once again, opposing teams found out just how hard it is to play at one of the best basketball venues in the West in the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. Utah State went 17-0 at home for the second consecutive season and ended the season with the second-longest home winning streak in the nation with 34 straight wins. The 2008-09 season also marked just the fifth time in the 39-year history of the building that a USU team has gone undefeated at home. That 17-0 record also marked the 13th straight year in which USU teams have lost two or fewer home games. USU also ranked second in the WAC in attendance in 2008 averaging 8,798 fans per game, including three sellouts during the season.

As for Coach Morrill, the 2008-09 season marked the fourth time in his 23 years as a collegiate head coach that he was named conference coach of the year, including his third time in his 11 years at USU. With a school record 30 wins in 2009, Morrill has now won at least 20 games 14 times in his career and at least 17 games 20 times. In his 11 years at USU, he has posted an amazing 267-91 (.746) record, including a 138-46 (.750) league mark, and a 21-6 (.778) record in conference tournaments.

Utah State finished the 2008-09 season leading the nation in field goal shooting (.496) for the second straight year and for the third time in the last five seasons, which is the best five-year stretch in the history of the NCAA. The last time a Division I team led the nation in field goal shooting in back-to-back seasons was UCLA in 1996 and 1997. Overall, Utah State is just the eighth team in the history of the NCAA to lead the nation in shooting in consecutive seasons joining UCLA, Michigan (1988-89), Arkansas (1977-78), Maryland (1975-76), North Carolina (1972-73), Auburn (1959-60), and George Washington (1954-56), who is the only team to lead the nation in field goal shooting in three straight years.

Utah State (30-5, 14-2) was also one of just 11 teams in the nation to win 30 games during the season along with North Carolina (34-4), Memphis (33-4), Connecticut (31-5), Pittsburgh (31-5), Louisville (31-6), Michigan State (31-7), Missouri (31-7), Oklahoma (30-6), Duke (30-7) and Villanova (30-8).

As for the Western Athletic Conference, Utah State was the top field goal shooting team for the third time in the last four years, not to mention leading the league in scoring defense allowing 62.0 points per game. USU also ranked first in the WAC in scoring margin (+10.4), field goal percentage defense (.419), assists (16.17) and rebound margin (+6.7).

Utah State had several statistical categories that ranked among the top 10 in school history for a single-season including tying for first all-time in games played with 35. USU also finished second in assists (566), second in three-point field goals made (222), second in three-point field goals attempted (563), tied for fourth in free throw shooting (.740), fifth in total points scored (2,534), and seventh in three-point shooting (.394).
