AGGIE OUTLOOK

"Anytime you start over with a lot of new players, there is the challenge of trying to make a new group mesh with a few veterans to see what you have. I hope I'm as excited in February as I am now about coaching this team. We have taken some things for granted the last few years that will be re-emphasized in terms of what has worked for us at Utah State. Practice habits, character, togetherness, all those things are so important and have been for years around here. Certainly talent level is something we're not quite sure where we're at right now and time will tell, but it should be a challenge and it should be fun and I hope our fans will embrace this team as we go along. We just hope we are a lot better team by the time we get to WAC play than we will be on the first day of practice in October."

--- USU head coach Stew Morrill.

Starting over. In a sense, that is what Utah State is doing this year under veteran head coach Stew Morrill after losing six seniors that combined to win a school-record four-straight regular season Western Athletic Conference Championships, advance to three-straight NCAA Tournaments, win two WAC Tournament Championships in three years and produce a four-year record of 111-28 (.799).

Despite everything that Utah State lost from last season, expectations surrounding the Aggie program will not change as a culture of winning has been established under Morrill, the reigning three-time WAC Coach of the Year. And that tradition includes an active streak of winning at least 23 games in each of the last 12 seasons and advancing to 12-straight postseason tournaments (8-NCAA, 4-NIT), both of which are school-records. USU also has the fourth-best winning percentage in the nation during the past 12 seasons at 77.4 percent (309-90), and has gone 75-21 (.781) in its six years in the WAC, the best record by any team in the league.

"I want this group to believe they can be successful, I just want them to go about it the right way which is day-by-day," said Morrill. "You can't win a WAC Championship by talking about it, you've got to go to work. We won't be favored to win the WAC and that will be the first time in a while. I don't know if I would call us an underdog, but you have a chance to prove that maybe you're better than where you're picked. I suspect we'll be picked somewhere in the middle of the pack. Whatever motivates you to go to work and do what it takes day-by-day to get better, I'm okay with that. Our goals don't change much. Try and win our next game and stay together, that is what is on our goal sheet every year and that's just kind of how we go about it."

Morrill's old-school style and philosophy has translated into him becoming the winningest coach in 108 years of Aggie basketball as he owns a gaudy 324-103 (.759) record in 13 years - ranking as the second-longest tenured coach in school history - to go along with a 167-49 (.773) conference record and a 25-7 (.781) mark in conference tournament play. He has also been awarded conference coach of the year honors on five separate occasions during his time at Utah State, including being named the 2009, 2010 and 2011 WAC Coach of the Year.

Leading the way for Utah State heading into the 2011-12 season will be the reigning WAC Tournament Most Valuable Player in senior point guard Brockeith Pane who also earned first-team all-WAC honors and was named to the league's all-newcomer team during his first year in an Aggie uniform. As a junior, Pane ranked fourth in the WAC in free throw shooting (.802), fifth in assists (3.41) and sixth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.32), while averaging 11.8 points and 3.1 rebounds per game.

"I think Brockeith should be one of the best players in the league this year, he was last year by the second half of league play," Morrill said. "What's important to me is that he gets better. Everybody in the league knows he's a power guard and that he gets to the line and that he gets in the lane and makes plays, and we certainly need that and expect that, but we also need him to be a more consistent shooter and to be a better defender. We can't hide him defensively like we could at times last year, so the parts of his game that weren't as strong, I expect to improve and yet still remember where his strengths are".

Another strength returning for Utah State this year will be senior forward Brady Jardine who has played in 91 games with seven starts during his first three years at USU. Last season, Jardine averaged 7.5 points and 7.0 rebounds, while shooting 54.1 percent from the field and 64.7 percent at the free throw line. He finished the season ranking sixth in the WAC with 1.00 blocks per game and ranks sixth all-time in school history with 69 career blocks.

"Brady's been like a starter the last couple years in a lot of ways, even though he hasn't had the opportunities that a starter gets minute-wise and shots and those kinds of things, so I'm really anxious, and I'm sure Brady is too, to see what he can do as a go-to-guy, and that's what he's got to be for us is a go-to-guy. I have no question of the effort and the confidence he'll put into it. Brady is a very valuable guy in terms of character and effort, so his senior season should be really special. That's what we think and I know that's what he wants too."

Along with Pane and Jardine, Utah State returns two more letterwinners from last season in senior forward Morgan Grim and junior guard E.J. Farris. Grim appeared in 32 games as a redshirt junior and averaged 2.6 points and 1.6 rebounds in 8.7 minutes per outing, while Farris played in 21 games and averaged 1.9 points in 7.3 minutes per game.

Utah State will also have the services of a trio of redshirts this year in junior guard Antonio Bumpus, sophomore guard Preston Medlin and freshman forward Ben Clifford. Bumpus earned third-team NJCAA All-America honors both years at Harcum (Pa.) College and averaged 18.3 points and 4.9 rebounds per game during his sophomore season. Medlin played in 22 games as a true freshman for USU during the 2009-10 season and averaged 3.7 points, while shooting 40.9 percent from the field, 37.5 percent from three-point range and 92.9 percent at the free throw line. And Clifford earned first-team all-state honors as a senior at Bingham High School in South Jordan, Utah as he averaged 16.6 points.

"I think we've always depended a great deal on our seniors and our veterans for leadership and production on the court, they kind of go hand-in-hand, but it's been a long time since it's been as important as it probably is this season with this many new players with the experience we lost. The seniors need to feel how imperative it is for them to set the tone on what Aggie basketball is about, why we've won championships, how hard we have to do things to be successful, the respect we have to have for coaches and players alike, all the things that go into our program. There's just a lot of new players that have never experienced it so it's up to all of us, but certainly the seniors play a big part of it to show them the way."

That group of newcomers - which includes four junior college transfers, five high school players and one four-year transfer - will be expected to make immediate contributions at numerous positions from the opening day of fall camp.

Highlighting this group is a pair of junior college transfers in junior forward Kyisean Reed and sophomore forward Mitch Bruneel. Reed averaged 17.1 points, 6.3 rebounds, 1.5 blocks and 1.5 steals per game this past season at Antelope Valley (Calif.) Junior College, as he shot 62.3 percent from the field and 67.0 percent at the free throw line. Bruneel averaged 10.0 points and 5.2 rebounds as a freshman at the College of Southern Idaho, helping the Golden Eagles to a 33-4 record and a National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Championship.

Four other newcomers who are expected to see extensive playing time this year include junior forward Igor Premasunac, sophomore guard/forward Danny Berger, and freshman guards Steven Thornton and Adam Thoseby. Premasunac averaged 9.3 points and 5.3 rebounds as a sophomore at Lon Morris (Texas) Junior College, while Berger averaged 16.1 points and 4.8 rebounds as a freshman at Chemeketa (Ore.) Community College during the 2008-09 season. Thornton averaged approximately 19.0 points and 5.0 boards as a prep senior at Golden Valley (Calif.) High School. And Thoseby averaged 7.3 points and 1.4 rebounds this past season at Maine Central Institute Prep, and scored nearly 27.0 points per game as a high school senior playing for the Under 18 Reading Rockets in Great Britain.

Other additions to the program include freshman forward David Collette, freshman guard Sam Orchard and freshman center Jordan Stone. Collette averaged 22.4 points and 8.8 rebounds this past season for Murray (Utah) High School, while Stone averaged approximately 18.0 points and 11.0 rebounds as a prep senior at Sky View (Utah) High School during the 2007-08 campaign. Orchard, a walk-on from Highland (Utah) High School, averaged 16.2 points and 3.2 rebounds a year ago.

The final addition to the 2011-12 roster is a transfer from Oklahoma State in junior center Jarred Shaw, who must sit out this season. In two years at OSU, Shaw appeared in 44 games averaging 1.2 points and 1.2 rebounds as a sophomore.

As for the WAC, Utah State will be looking to defend both its regular season and tournament championship as USU has won four-straight regular season titles and two WAC Tournaments in the past three years.

"For the first time in several years, we will not be the favorite in the WAC. We hope the challenges of the preseason will help us improve enough to be a competitive WAC team. Nevada, New Mexico State and Hawai'i appear to be very strong and we look forward to seeing how it all shakes out," Morrill said.

SCHEDULE

Utah State will play a total of 31 games during the regular season, which includes four contests against in-state opponents and a minimum of 11 games against postseason teams from a year ago.

During the 2010-11 season, Utah State will play 17 games in the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum, a venue where it has won 68 of its last 69 contests. Overall, the Aggies have posted an incredible 193-13 (.937) home record under Morrill, which includes a 45-3 (.938) mark in Western Athletic Conference play. USU will enter the 2011-12 season having won 31 straight home games, including 28 straight WAC games, to rank as the third-longest active home winning streak in the nation.

Highlighting Utah State's non-conference schedule will be home games against in-state foe Brigham Young along with Kent State and Saint Peter's, all postseason teams a year ago. Significant road games include trips to Missouri Valley Conference member Wichita State and to Southeastern Conference member Mississippi State, along with a contest at in-state rival Weber State.

Utah State's matchup against Mississippi State will be the first of a three-game series as the Bulldogs will return to Logan during the 2013-14 season, with USU playing its second game in Starkville during the 2014-15 year. Utah State hasn't played an SEC school since losing to Vanderbilt (77-56) at the 2007 South Padre Island (Texas) Invitational, and this year's game will mark its first SEC road trip since losing at LSU (103-71) on Dec. 28, 1984. For Utah State, it will be the second-straight year it has traveled to a BCS school, playing at Georgetown last season.

Overall, Utah State's non-conference schedule consists of five games against postseason teams from a year ago as it will host Brigham Young, Kent State and Saint Peter's, and play at Weber State and Wichita State. Both the Cougars and Saint Peter's played in the NCAA Tournament a year ago, while Kent State and Wichita State both participated in the National Invitational Tournament (NIT) in 2011, with the Shockers winning the championship. Weber State concluded its 2011 season in the College Basketball Invitational.

In all, Utah State's non-conference schedule consists of nine teams with winning records in 2011, including four who won at least 20 games. Other postseason teams from the 2010-11 season on Utah State's schedule include Hawai'i and Idaho who both played in the CollegeInsider.com Tournament, and San Jose State who participated in the College Basketball Invitational.

"Our schedule presents lots of challenges in both the preseason and conference play," said Morrill. "After our exhibition games, we face always strong BYU in our home opener followed by Big Sky favorite Weber State in Ogden. That is jumping right into the fire to start the year."

After playing exhibition games against UC San Diego and Adams State on Oct. 28 and Nov. 5, Utah State will open the season with three straight in-state games including its season opener at home against Brigham Young on Friday, Nov. 11. USU will then play at Weber State on Tuesday, Nov. 15 and host Southern Utah on Saturday, Nov. 19. The Aggies will then play a pair of road games at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi (Nov. 22) and at Idaho State (Nov. 26) before concluding the month of November at home against future WAC member Denver on Wednesday, Nov. 30.

Utah State will begin December with a road game at former Big West Conference foe Pacific on Saturday, Dec. 3, before returning home to host Utah Valley on Tuesday, Dec. 6. USU will then travel to Wichita State on Saturday, Dec. 10 followed by a home game against future WAC member Seattle on Saturday, Dec. 17. Utah State will then host another future WAC member in Texas-Arlington, along with Saint Peter's and Kent State in the 2011 World Vision Challenge sponsored by Gossner Foods which runs from Tuesday, Dec. 20 through Thursday, Dec. 22. Following the Christmas Holiday, USU will conclude its preseason with a road game at Mississippi State on Saturday, Dec. 31.

"The preseason is loaded with many interesting matchups. We play future WAC teams Denver, Seattle, and Texas-Arlington. Also, old Big West foe Pacific is on the schedule along with two more in-state rivals in Southern Utah and Utah Valley. Games at Missouri Valley favorite Wichita State as well as SEC opponent Mississippi State in Starkville should help prepare us for WAC play. Our tournament also features a possible top 25 team in Kent State," added Morrill.

One team not on Utah State's schedule this upcoming season is in-state rival Utah, snapping a streak of 67 straight years that the two schools have met annually. The two teams, who have played each other 223 times overall, will not be facing one another for the first time since the 1943-44 season as USU did not field a team that year due to World War II. In fact, the only other time USU and UU have not played when both schools have had teams was during the 1919-20 campaign.

As the calendar turns to 2012, Utah State will return home and begin its quest for a fifth-straight Western Athletic Conference regular season title on Thursday, Jan. 5 against Fresno State, followed by another home game versus Nevada on Saturday, Jan. 7.

Following a stretch with six of seven games at home, Utah State will end the month of January and begin February by playing six of eight games on the road, including four in a row away from Logan against New Mexico State (Jan. 12), Louisiana Tech (Jan. 14), Seattle (Jan. 19) and Idaho (Jan. 21). After hosting Hawai'i and San Jose State on Thursday, Jan. 26 and Saturday, Jan. 28, USU will return to the road for games at Nevada (Feb. 2) and Fresno State (Feb. 4).

Utah State will then return home for a season-long five-game homestand as it hosts Louisiana Tech on Thursday, Feb. 9 and New Mexico State on Saturday, Feb. 11, before hosting non-conference foe Montana Tech on Tuesday, Feb. 14. USU will then participate in the annual ESPN BracketBusters for the seventh-straight year and host an opponent to be determined on Friday, Feb. 17 or Saturday, Feb. 18.

Utah State will return to WAC play on Friday, Feb. 24 as it hosts Idaho in its final home game of the season and then concludes regular season play the following weekend at San Jose State (Mar. 1) and at Hawai'i (Mar. 3).

The 2012 WAC Tournament will once again be held at the Orleans Arena in Las Vegas, Nev., from Mar. 7-10, utilizing the same format as last year which rewards teams based on regular season success and giving the top two teams byes into the tournament semifinals.

POINT GUARDS

E.J. Farris, 6-2, 185, Jr., 1L
Sam Orchard, 6-1, 175, Fr., HS
*Brockeith Pane, 6-1, 195, Sr., 1L
* - returning starter

Utah State has a wealth of talent and experience at the point guard position, highlighted by the return of senior Brockeith Pane, who will be starting for the second straight season. In his first year at USU as a junior, Pane earned first-team all-WAC honors and was named to the league's all-newcomer team after averaging 11.8 points, 3.4 assists and 3.1 rebounds per game, while shooting 43.6 percent from the field and 80.2 percent at the free throw line. Pane, who scored in double-figures 22 times during his junior year including three 20-point games, finished the year ranking fourth in the league in free throw shooting, fifth in assists and sixth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.32). Pane, the only first-team all-WAC player returning in 2012, was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2011 WAC Tournament as he averaged 17.5 points in wins against San Jose State (58-54) and Boise State (77-69). Also returning here is junior E.J. Farris who played in 21 games during his first year at USU and averaged 1.9 points in 7.3 minutes per game. Joining Pane and Farris will be freshman walk-on Sam Orchard who was named the 4A Most Valuable Player as a prep senior at Highland (Utah) High School helping his team to a state championship. During his senior year, he averaged 16.2 points and shot 44.3 percent from the field, 37.8 percent from three-point range and 81.4 percent at the free throw line.

SHOOTING GUARDS

Danny Berger, 6-6, 205, So., JC
Antonio Bumpus, 6-3, 185, Jr., RS
Preston Medlin, 6-4, 175, So., RS

Utah State must replace two proven players at the shooting guard position in four-year starter Tyler Newbold and reserve Brian Green, who earned second-team all-WAC honors a year ago. Newbold, who played in 139 games during his Aggie career including 129 consecutive starts, averaged 6.8 points and 4.4 rebounds as a senior playing a team-best 29.3 minutes per game. Green, who scored in double-figures 16 times during the year, averaged 10.5 points as a senior and led the WAC in three-point shooting (.482). Despite the loss of its top two performers here from a year ago, Utah State does return two players who have spent time in the program in junior Antonio Bumpus and sophomore Preston Medlin as both players redshirted last season. Bumpus earned third-team NJCAA All-America honors both years at Harcum (Pa.) College and averaged 18.3 points and 4.9 rebounds per game during his sophomore season as he was named the Region 19 Player of the Year after scoring in double-figures 27 times, including 13 20-point games. Medlin played in 22 games as a true freshman for USU during the 2009-10 season and averaged 3.7 points, while shooting 40.9 percent from the field, 37.5 percent from three-point range and 92.9 percent at the free throw line. The one true newcomer to this position will be sophomore Danny Berger who is coming off a two-year LDS Church Mission. Prior to that, Berger spent his freshman season at Chemeketa (Ore.) Community College where he earned Southern Region first-team honors from the Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges as he averaged 16.1 points and shot 53.2 percent from the field, 46.7 percent from three-point range and 82.5 percent from the free throw line.

SMALL FORWARDS

Mitch Bruneel, 6-5, 205, So., JC
Steven Thornton, 6-3, 175, Fr., HS
Adam Thoseby, 6-4, 190, Fr., HS

Utah State will be looking to a newcomer to fill this position after the graduation of three-year starter Pooh Williams and Newbold, who saw extensive time here as well as at shooting guard. Williams, who played in 131 games with 99 starts during his career, averaged 8.6 points as a senior and scored in double-figures 11 times. Three players will be vying for playing time here in sophomore Mitch Bruneel, and freshmen Steven Thornton and Adam Thoseby. Bruneel averaged 10.0 points and 5.2 rebounds as a freshman at the College of Southern Idaho, helping the Golden Eagles to a 33-4 record and a National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Championship. As a freshman at CSI, he scored in double-figures 18 times, including four 20-point games and four double-doubles. He finished the year shooting 46.8 percent from the field, 31.0 percent from three-point range and 69.5 percent at the free throw line. Thornton, who sat out last season finishing some required course work, played two years ago for Stoneridge Prep. As a prep senior during the 2008-09 season, he averaged 19.0 points and 5.0 rebounds at Golden Valley (Calif.) High School earning first-team all-Foothill League honors as Golden Valley won back-to-back league championships. Thoseby spent this past season at Maine Central Institute Prep where he averaged 7.3 point and shot 41.9 percent from the field, 36.2 percent from three-point range and 79.5 percent at the free throw line. As a prep senior in Great Britain, he averaged nearly 27.0 points and 7.0 rebounds per game.

POWER FORWARDS

Ben Clifford, 6-7, 220, Fr., RS
David Collette, 6-8, 220, Fr., HS
Morgan Grim, 6-7, 230, Sr., 1L
Brady Jardine, 6-7, 220, Sr., 3L
Igor Premasunac, 6-8, 240, Jr., JC
Kyisean Reed, 6-6, 215, Jr., JC

Perhaps the biggest unknown heading into the 2011-12 season for Utah State is how it will adjust to the graduation of the reigning WAC Player of the Year in Tai Wesley, who was a four-year starter at power forward and the winningest player in school history with a 111-28 (.799) record. As a senior, Wesley averaged 14.8 points and 8.0 rebounds per game, and scored in double-figures 28 times. The leading candidate to fill this void will be senior Brady Jardine who has played in 91 games, including seven starts, during his first three years at USU. As a junior, Jardine averaged 7.5 points and 7.0 rebounds and shot 54.1 percent from the field and 64.7 percent at the free throw line. Jardine also scored in double-figures nine times during his junior year and had six double-figure rebounding games. Another returnee here is senior Morgan Grim who played in 32 games during his first year at USU and averaged 2.6 points and 1.6 rebounds in 8.7 minutes off the bench. Joining its two veterans will be two junior college transfers in Igor Premasunac and Kyisean Reed. Premasunac earned honorable mention all-conference honors as a sophomore at Lon Morris (Texas) Junior College as he averaged 9.3 points and 5.3 rebounds, while shooting 51.9 percent from the field. Reed averaged 17.1 points, 6.3 rebounds, 1.5 blocks and 1.5 steals per game this past season at Antelope Valley (Calif.) Junior College, as he shot 62.3 percent from the field and 67.0 percent at the free throw line. The two other newcomers to this group is a pair of freshmen in Ben Clifford and David Collette. Clifford, who redshirted at USU last year, earned first-team all-state honors and was named the Most Valuable Player of Region III as a senior at Bingham (Utah) High School as he averaged 16.6 points and 8.0 rebounds, scoring in double-figures 22 times. Collette averaged 22.4 points and 8.8 rebounds this past season for Murray (Utah) High School as he was named the 5A-Region 2 Most Valuable Player.

CENTERS

Jordan Stone, 6-10, 270, Fr., HS

Utah State will look to replace a two-year starter at center after the graduation of Nate Bendall who averaged 6.5 points and 5.8 rebounds as a senior and was named to the league's all-newcomer team as a junior after averaging 10.3 points and 5.5 boards. The two players listed at center on this year's roster are both newcomers in junior transfer Jarred Shaw and freshman Jordan Stone. Shaw must sit out this season per NCAA transfer rules after playing the past two years at Oklahoma State. As a sophomore at OSU, Shaw appeared in 26 games and averaged 1.2 points and 1.2 rebounds per game. Stone last played competitive basketball during the 2007-08 season at Sky View (Utah) High School as he earned first-team all-state honors after averaging approximately 18.0 points, 11.0 rebounds and 3.0 blocks per game, while shooting 58.0 percent from the field and 77.0 percent at the free throw line. Others who could see playing time here include Grim and Premasunac.

DID YOU KNOW?

Utah State's current run of winning four-straight Western Athletic Conference regular season championships is the longest in school history. The previous record for consecutive conference titles was two during the 1935-36 seasons in the Rocky Mountain Athletics Conference and the 1997-98 seasons in the Big West Conference.

STEW MORRILL

- Head Coach (Entering 14th Season at Utah State)
- Alma Mater (Gonzaga, 1974)
- Record at Utah State (324-103, .759)
- Overall Record (542-241, .692, 25 Seasons)

Entering his 26th season as a collegiate head coach and 14th year at Utah State, Stew Morrill has established himself as one of the most respected coaches in the country. He is also the school's all-time winningest coach as he passed the legendary E. Lowell Romney's 225 career wins on Jan. 17, 2008 with an 82-78 win against Boise State.

In 13 years as Utah State's head coach, Morrill has taken the Aggie Basketball program to unprecedented heights leading USU to an incredible 324-103 (.759) record, including a 167-49 (.773) mark in the Big West and Western Athletic Conferences.

While at Utah State, he has guided the Aggies to 12 straight 23-win seasons and 12 straight postseason appearances (NCAA-8, NIT-4), both of which are school records. Prior to Morrill's current run, USU had never posted more than three straight 20-win seasons and participated in more than three-straight post-season tournaments.

During the last 12 years, Utah State is one of just three teams in the nation to win at least 23 games in each of those seasons, along with Gonzaga and Kansas.

Morrill has also led Utah State to the fourth-best winning percentage in the nation during the last 12 years at 77.4 percent with an overall record of 309-90. Against conference opponents, Utah State has a 192-56 record with seven regular season league championships and six tournament titles during that time, including appearances in its league's tournament championship game 10 times in the last 12 years.

Under Morrill, Utah State has notched 12 of the top 13 seasons in school history as the Aggies set a school record with 28 wins during the 2000 season, tied that record with 28 wins during the 2001 season, set a school record with 30 wins in 2009 and tied that record with 30 wins in 2011.

During the 2010-11 season, Morrill guided Utah State to its fourth-straight regular season WAC Championship, including its third-straight outright title with a 15-1 record. USU also won its second WAC Tournament title in the past three years and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 20th time in school history.

Under Morrill, Utah State has appeared in the NCAA Tournament eight times, including each of the last three years marking only the second time in school history that USU has appeared in three-straight NCAA Tournaments joining the 1962, '63 and '64 teams.

Furthermore, the 2010-11 Aggie basketball team was nationally ranked for the last nine weeks of the season and finished the year ranked No. 25 in the country in final ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll, marking the first time since the 1978 season and only the eighth time in school history that an Aggie team was nationally ranked at the end of the year.

For the 12th straight year, Utah State had at least one player earn first-team all-league accolades as senior forward Tai Wesley and junior guard Brockeith Pane were both named first-team all-WAC. Wesley also became the third Aggie in the last four years to be named the WAC's Player of the Year, joining Jaycee Carroll (2008) and Gary Wilkinson (2009), and the third player in the last four years to earn Associated Press honorable mention All-America honors joining Carroll (2007, 2008) and Wilkinson (2009).

Utah State also had two other players honored by the WAC in 2011 as senior guard Brian Green was named to the league's second-team, while senior guard Tyler Newbold was named to the league's all-defensive team. Along with being named first-team all-WAC, Pane was named to the league's all-newcomer team as well.

Pane was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2011 WAC Tournament, while Wesley and fellow senior forward Nate Bendall were both named to the all-tournament team.

Overall, Morrill has coached 14 first-team all-league players at Utah State who have won the award a total of 20 times.

Morrill was also honored during the 2010-11 season and was named the WAC Coach of the Year for the third time in as many years. He was also named the 2011 Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year by Colleg Insider.com and the National Association of Basketball Coaches District 6 Co-Coach of the Year for the second-straight season.

All-time, Morrill has been named Coach of the Year (2000 BWC, 2002 BWC, 2009 WAC, 2010 WAC, 2011 WAC) five times in his 13 years at USU, along with winning the Big Sky award while the head coach at Montana in 1991.

Morrill has taken full advantage of the home court at USU, the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. In Morrill's 13 years, USU is an amazing 193-13 (.937) at home, which includes a 100-8 (.926) record in league play.

As for Morrill, he has won 20 or more games on 16 different occasions during his career and has won at least 17 games 22 times.

Overall, Morrill ranks 18th in the nation among active coaches and 57th all-time with his 542 career wins, while his career winning percentage of 69.2 percent ranks 26th among active coaches and 80th all-time. He is also one of 19 active coaches with 500 career wins at the Division I level and one of just 12 active coaches to notch at least 16 20-win seasons. His current streak of 12 straight 20-win seasons ranks tied for sixth among active coaches and is tied for the 11th-longest streak at the Division I level.

Academics and community service have been of top priority to Morrill and his staff as all of the team members are involved with USU's CHAMPS/Life Skills Program within the community. In his 13 years, Morrill has graduated better than 80 percent of his players, and over the past nine years, Utah State has had 29 academic all-conference honorees.

Morrill, who was born in Provo, Utah and attended Provo High School, owns a career record of 542-241 in 25 years of collegiate coaching, including a 324-103 record at Utah State in 13 years, a 121-86 record in seven years at Colorado State (1992-98) and a 97-52 mark in five campaigns at Montana (1987-91).

"There are several reasons that I was attracted to Utah State," Morrill said when he was hired. "The first was being a Utah native so that it is a homecoming of sorts for me. My brother and sister both live within an hour and a half of Logan.

"I am very familiar with the tradition of Utah State basketball and can name the greats as well as any alumni could," Morrill added. "It is a good basketball situation and the premier job in the Big West Conference. My family will love the quality of the community of Logan. It is a great place to live and that is very important to me and my family. It just made sense to us."

The 59-year old ranks second on the CSU victory list and second in winning percentage. He guided the Rams to back-to-back 20-win seasons the last two years in Fort Collins, with identical 20-9 marks. During the 1997-98 season, CSU made its second trip to the NIT in the last three years.

Morrill guided CSU to two of its six all-time 20-win seasons and won at least 17 games five times in his seven years. In fact, Morrill-led CSU teams own three of the top seven winning seasons in school history.

During his tenure at Colorado State, he coached three first-team all-WAC selections, one second-team pick and six honorable mention choices. Three of his players were named to the WAC all-tournament team.

After his collegiate playing career, which included being named an All-American at nearby Ricks (Idaho) Junior College and a two-time all-Big Sky selection at Gonzaga, Morrill played professionally in Europe.

His coaching career began as an assistant at Gonzaga from 1975-78 and then to Montana where he was an assistant from 1979-86 working for Mike Montgomery, who spent 17 years as the head coach at Stanford and is now the head coach at Cal. Montgomery worked under Jim Brandenburg and Jud Heathcote, who retired after a successful career, which included a national championship at Michigan State.

Morrill took over the Montana program in 1987 before moving to Colorado State in 1992. He is known for his deep-rooted values, consistency, hard work, dedication, honesty, integrity and concern for the welfare of his student-athletes.

Morrill earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from Gonzaga in 1974. He was born July 25, 1952 in Provo, Utah.

He and his wife Vicki have four grown children; sons Jesse and Allan, and daughters Nicole and Tiffany, and five grandchildren.

Entering his 11th year at Utah State is Tim Duryea (pronounced Dur-E-A), who joined the Aggie coaching staff in July, 2001. Duryea, who was promoted to associate coach following the 2008 season, is the longest tenured assistant coach in school history dating back to the 1959 season.

While at Utah State, Duryea spent his first seven seasons in charge of an Aggie defense that traditionally ranked among the top in the nation in points allowed, including a fourth-place finish in 2002 (58.1), a sixth-place finish in 2004 (58.1), an eighth-place finish in 2005 (57.8), and a ninth-place finish in 2003 (60.0).

During the 2008-09 season, Duryea took the reins of the Aggie offense and USU finished the year as the nation's best shooting team (.496), while ranking 17th in three-point shooting (.394). In the 2009-10 season, USU ranked third nationally in three-point shooting (.414), ninth in overall shooting (.488) and 10th in free throw shooting (.758), and was the only team in the nation to rank among the top 10 in all three shooting categories. Along with his offensive coaching duties, Duryea also works with USU's post players.

Prior to joining the Aggies, Duryea was the head coach at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College from 2000-01. During his two years at the helm, his teams produced a 40-25 record and back-to-back trips to the Region Six Championships.

A 1988 graduate of the University of North Texas, Duryea began his coaching career in 1988 at Colorado State University before moving on to North Texas in 1993. Duryea then went to Hutchinson Community College as an assistant coach for two seasons before becoming the head coach there prior to the 1999-2000 season.

Duryea played basketball at Denton (Texas) High School and Texas Pan-American before transferring to North Texas. At UNT, Duryea was a co-captain in 1988 for one of only three teams in school history to advance to the NCAA Tournament.

He was born in Medicine Lodge, Kan., on Nov. 16, 1964. He and his wife Angie have 16-year old twins, Tanner (son) and Taylor (daughter) and a nine-year old daughter (Kaylee).

SEASON IN REVIEW

Mission Accomplished!

Entering the 2010-11 season, Utah State's men's basketball team had just one mission, to win its fourth-straight Western Athletic Conference regular season championship and advance to its third-straight NCAA Tournament. And with four starters, six seniors and eight lettermen returning for the previous year, anything short of another WAC title and NCAA Tournament appearance would have been considered a disappointment.

By season's end, Utah State did not disappoint as it accomplished everything it set out to do and more, steamrolling its way to a school-record tying 30 wins, including a dominating 15-1 performance in conference play as it won its fourth-straight WAC title and advanced to the Big Dance for the third year in a row.

Along the way, Utah State set a school and WAC record by winning 25 straight conference games over a two-year period and produced the third-longest winning streak in school history with 17 straight victories. Utah State also entered the top 25 during the season and was nationally ranked for nine-straight weeks, ending the year No. 25 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll.

Leading the way for Utah State heading into the 2010-11 season was the WAC's Pre-season Player of the Year in senior forward Tai Wesley. Along with Wesley, Utah State returned three other proven starters in senior forward Nate Bendall and senior guards Tyler Newbold and Pooh Williams. USU also had an experienced bench returning in senior forward Matt Formisano, senior guard Brian Green, junior forward Brady Jardine and sophomore guard Preston Medlin.

Needless to say, Utah State was everyone's preseason favorite to win the WAC once again in 2010-11 with all its experience and talent returning, and that's just what they did.

Utah State began the 2010-11 season by winning five of its first seven games, which included in-state victories against Weber State and Utah at home along with a home win against Northeastern, and road wins at Southern Utah and Denver. USU also played two nationally ranked teams on the road during the first month of the season in BYU and Georgetown in the nation's capital.

Following home wins against Long Beach State and Cal State Bakersfield, and a road win at Utah Valley, Utah State won its own World Vision Invitational with victories against Idaho State, Western Michigan and Troy to end its preseason with an 11-2 record.

Utah State began defense of its back-to-back-to-back WAC Championships with home wins against Hawai'i and San Jose State. USU then began the New Year with road wins at Nevada, Boise State and Fresno State, followed by home wins against Louisiana Tech and New Mexico State, and two more road wins at San Jose State and Hawai'i to push its winning streak to 15 straight games heading into the month of February.

With its winning streak, Utah State entered the national polls in January, coming in at No. 25 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll for the week of January 24, marking the third time in the last eight seasons that USU has been nationally ranked.

With plenty of national exposure, Utah State began the month of February just like it ended January as it defeated Nevada and Boise State at home to push its winning streak to 17 straight games, which was tied for the third-longest winning streak in school history. USU also set a school and WAC record in February by winning 25 straight WAC games over a two-year period.

Following its only loss during conference play at Idaho in early February, Utah State responded by winning its final six games of the regular season to run away with the WAC title and became just the seventh team in the 49-year history of the league to lose one or fewer conference games as it finished with a 15-1 league record.

During the final month of the season, Utah State posted home wins against Fresno State, Montana-Western and Idaho on Senior Night, a convincing road win at No. 23 Saint Mary's in the annual ESPN BracketBusters, and a pair of league road wins at New Mexico State and Louisiana Tech to conclude the regular season with an impressive 28-3 record.

For the fourth year in a row, Utah State entered the WAC Tournament as the top seed, and for the second time in the last three years, Utah State came away as the tournament champion as it defeated San Jose State (58-54) in the semifinals and Boise State (77-69) in the championship game to advance to its 20th NCAA Tournament all-time, including its eighth in the last 12 years under Coach Morrill.

With a 30-3 record and No. 17 national ranking in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches'

Poll, Utah State was given a 12-seed in the Southeast Region and sent to Tucson, Ariz., to face fifth-seeded Kansas State in the second round, where it lost to the Wildcats, 73-68.

Despite its heartbreaking loss in the NCAA Tournament, the 2010-11 season was one of the most successful campaigns in school history under Morrill as USU advanced to its 12th straight postseason tournament (8-NCAA, 4-NIT) and posted its 12th straight 23-win season, extending its current school records in each category.

With team success comes individual recognition and Utah State had four players recognized for their accomplishments throughout the course of the season in Wesley, Green and Newbold, along with junior guard Brocketh Pane.

For the 12th straight season, USU had at least one player earn first-team all-conference honors as Wesley and Pane were both named to the WAC's first-team, while Wesley was also named the WAC's Player of the Year marking the sixth time in school history, and the third time in the last four years, that a USU player has received conference player of the year honors. Green was also honored, as he was named second-team all-WAC, while Pane was named to the league's all-newcomer team.

Utah State also had a player named to the WAC's all-defensive team for the second year in a row as Newbold was named to the five-player team.

Wesley finished his senior season ranking first on the team in both scoring (14.8) and rebounding (8.0), and was second in minutes played (29.2). He also ranked second in the conference in field goal shooting (.599), fourth in rebounding, fifth in blocked shots (1.06) and sixth in scoring.

Wesley concluded his career as the only player in school history to record at least 1,000 points, 500 rebounds, 200 assists and 100 blocks. Overall, Wesley ranks eighth all-time at USU in scoring (1,749), tied for first in games played (139), third in games started

Tai Wesley earned honorable mention All-America honors from the Associated Press and was named the WAC's Player of the Year during his senior season in 2010-11 after averaging 14.8 points and 8.0 rebounds.

Brock Keith Pane earned first-team all-WAC honors as he averaged 11.8 points and 4.4 assists during his junior year. He was also named the MVP of the 2011 WAC Tournament.

(128), third in blocked shots (144), third in double-figure scoring games (101), fourth in field goal percentage (.597), fourth in free throw attempts (608), fifth in free throws made (428), fifth in minutes played (3,768), sixth in rebounding (873), sixth in field goals made (657), eighth in assists (356), ninth in steals (112) and 10th in field goal attempts (1,102).

Pane finished the year ranking second on the team in scoring with 11.8 points per game. He also ranked fourth in the conference in free throw shooting (.802), fifth in assists (3.41) and sixth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.32).

Green was the team's third-leading scorer at 10.5 points per game, and finished the year leading the WAC in three-point shooting at 46.9 percent and ranking 10th in overall shooting at 48.2 percent.

Along with being named the WAC's Player of the Year, Wesley also earned WAC Player of the Week honors three times during the season. He received his first honor on Dec. 13 after leading USU to home wins against Long Beach State (81-53) and Cal State Bakersfield (77-58), while his second honor was on Jan. 3 after home wins against Hawai'i (74-66) and San Jose State (80-71). His third WAC Player of the Week award came on Feb. 21 as USU defeated Montana-Western (100-66) at home and No. 23 Saint Mary's (75-65) on the road in its annual ESPNU BracketBuster game.

Two other players received WAC Player of the Week honors during the season as Jardine won the award on Nov. 29 after leading Utah State to home wins against Utah (79-62) and Northeastern (56-54), while Green won his award on Jan. 31 after leading the Aggies to a pair of league road wins at San Jose State (84-65) and at Hawai'i (89-84 2OT).

Utah State also had three players named to the WAC's all-tournament team in Bendall, Pane and Wesley. Pane was named the Most Valuable Player of the tournament as he averaged 17.5 points, while Bendall averaged 10.5 points and 9.0 rebounds, and Wesley averaged 16.5 points and 10.5 rebounds.

For all of his success and accomplishments during the 2010-11 season, Wesley was named an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press, marking the fourth time in the last five years that USU has had a player garner All-America honors. Wesley also earned all-district honors from both the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) and the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC).

Once again, opposing teams found out just how hard it is to play at one of the best basketball venues in the West in the Dee Glen Smith Spectrum. Utah State went 17-0 at home for the third time in the last four years and ended the season with the third-longest home winning streak in the nation with 31 straight wins. The 2010-11 season also marked just the sixth time in the 41-year history of the building that a USU team has gone undefeated at home. That 17-0 record also marked the 15th straight year in which USU teams have lost two or fewer home games. USU also led the WAC in attendance in 2011 averaging 8,732 fans per game, including two sellouts during the season.

As for Coach Morrill, the 2010-11 season marked the sixth time in his 25 years as a collegiate head coach that he was named conference coach of the year, including his fifth time in his 13 years at USU as he has now been named the WAC Coach of the Year in each of the past three seasons. Morrill was also named the NABC District 6 Coach of the Year for the second year in a row and the 2011 Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year by CollegeInsider.com.

With a school-record tying 30 wins in 2011, Morrill has now won at least 20 games 16 times in his career and at least 17 games 22 times. In his 13 years at USU, he has posted an amazing 324-103 (.759) record, including a 167-49 (.773) league mark, and a 25-7 (.781) record in conference tournaments.

Overall, Utah State finished the 2010-11 year ranking among the top 11 in the nation in six different statistical categories as it finished the year ranking third in field goal percentage defense (.383), fourth in winning Stew Morrill was named the WAC's Coach of the Year for the third-straight year in 2011 after leading USU to its fourth-straight conference championship. He was also named the Jim Phelan National Coach of the Year.

Brian Green was named to the WAC's second team as a senior after averaging 10.5 points and leading the league in three-point shooting (.469).

percentage (.882), fifth in scoring defense (58.7), sixth in scoring margin (+13.4), eighth in rebound margin (+7.6) and 11th in three-point field goal percentage defense (.302). Utah State (30-4, 15-1) finished the 2010-11 season as one of just eight teams nationally to win at least 30 games, and it was one of just four teams to have four or fewer losses during the year.

As for the Western Athletic Conference, Utah State was the top field goal shooting team for the fourth time in as many years, not to mention leading the league in scoring defense for the fourth-straight year allowing 58.7 points per game. USU also ranked first in the WAC in scoring margin, field goal percentage defense, three-point field goal percentage defense, rebound margin and assists (14.71).

Utah State had several statistical categories that ranked among the top 10 in school history for a single-season including setting a record for winning percentage (.882) and tying the 2008-09 team for the most wins in school history (30). USU also finished the year ranking fourth all-time in three-point attempts (562), fifth in games played (34), tied for fifth in three-pointers made (206), sixth in blocked shots (110), eighth in total points (2,449), ninth in assists (500), ninth in free throws made (563) and ninth in free throw percentage (.737).

The Aggies finished the 2010-11 season with some interesting trends. They were 22-0 when committing fewer fouls than its opponent; 16-0 when it committed fewer turnovers than its opponent; 15-0 when it had more steals than its opponent; 13-2 when it blocked more shots than its opponent; 26-2 when it had more assists than its opponent; 25-1 when it had more defensive rebounds than its opponent; 27-2 when it shot better from the field than its opponent; 18-4 when it shot better from 3-point range than its opponent; 15-0 when its backcourt outscored its opponents backcourt; and 23-2 when its frontline outscored its opponents frontline.
