1970-71 AGGIE PREVIEW

Utah State University has carried, with pride, the position of runner-up in the NCAA west region for 1969-70. However, LaDell Andersen and staff are not looking for a repeat -- they are looking for a spot in the NCAA finals.

Andersen was named Rocky Mountain Coach of The Year for the third time since coming to USU in the fall of 1961. He has what may well be the two most talented forwards on one team in senior All-America Marvin Roberts and Nate Williams who was named one of the five best sophomores of 1969-70.

Roberts and Williams were named to the all-tourney team in the NCAA west regional at Seattle in March.

Add starter Jeff Tebbs at guard and lettermen Ed Eps, a swing guard/forward talent who specializes in the one-on-one play, along with juniors Ron Hatch and Terry Wakefield and Andersen has a strong hand for openers.

From the six lettermen the Aggies have nearly 2,000 points returning; approximately 66.4 points per game and 31 rebounds. Add to this group five players from the Aggie frosh team which averaged 86.5 points per game, the return of 6-9 Walter Bees from the injury list and 6-6 Dave Anderson from the '67-68 frosh team and the new USU Assembly Center which will seat 10,300 may be too small on opening night.

The Aggies were 13th in the nation in scoring with a 90.3 average last season.

The big search this season will be for an adequate center. Walter Bees and Lafayette Love will battle for the position but neither have game experience.

1970-71 CAPSULE

TEAM: Possibly best in USU history.

Forwards: Two all-America candidates - Marvin Roberts, definitely Nate Williams, probably

Great reserve strength: Ed Epps, Ron Hatch, Robert Lauriski and Dave Andersen

Height average: 6-6

Centers: This will be a question until the first game is played or maybe several games.

Walter Bees - Jr., 6-9, good rebounding - Lacks experience Lafayette Love - soph., 6-10, good rebounding as frosh - wait and Guards: Tebbs started 23 games and missed two more due to an injury.

Epps will be hard to keep out of the lineup. He is best on the broken play as a feeder or personally going to the boards for the basket.

Wakefield excellent outside shooter and a definite candidate Height average: 6--2

Sophomores: Cooley made great progress on frosh team... has perfect jump shot form and is 51 percent accurate

Pavlish excellent jumper and should provide ready reserve strength

Thompson small at 5-11 but one of those quick little guards with 110 percent hustle... will be an asset to the team.

Average team height: 6-4 including Tebbs and Thompson at 5-11.

AGGIES' NEW HOME

"The new facility, the USU Assembly Center, puts us on a plain equal to the successful USU basketball heritage," is the way USU athletic director Frank "Buss" Williams views the new home of Aggie basketball.

The AC (Assembly Center) will seat 10,200 spectators in chair-back seats. There are 36 rows of seats completely circling the playing floor.

Complimenting the interior of the Center is the pleasant color scheme of the seats. Colors of light orange, dark orange, light gold and yellow were selected.

FACILITIES

Dressing areas for four teams; team meeting rooms; reception room; coaches offices; officials dressing area; first aid room; laundry area; class rooms with projector; a hall of honor; five ticket booths; and a press facility provide for most every need common to the staging of a major college game or a tournament.

In addition there are training facilities, showers and drying areas. USU teams will use the north lockers and the visitors will use the south lockers. Each team will enter the playing floor via nearby ramps.

FLOOR

The playing floor is permanent and is constructed of maple on a cushion over concrete.

SEATING

Student seating will accommodate approximately 4,200. Season tickets available will be approximately 3,800. Areas have been designated for single game ticket buyers, visiting team fans, and special group sections.

EASY ACCESS

The building is designed to provide easy traffic control with four entrances, one on each side of the building. Concessions and rest room locations are at each corner of the building.

SOUND-SCOREBOARDS

The sound system is the most modern electronic device designed and uses the cluster sound program.

Scoreboards are installed at each end of the Center.

The Center will be the site of special events throughout the year. Theatre in the Round, concerts and general assemblies for the USU student-body and the community will make the facility in demand constantly.

Block lighting will allow gatherings of groups from 2,500 to 7,000 to meet in compact seating arrangements.

Mid-November work assembles playing floor.

MARVIN ROBERTS No. 31, All-America, 6-8, 201, Senior Forward. Brooklyn, New York - Wingate High.

(The following paragraphs are exerpts from the USU-UCLA-NCAA playoff game account printed in the Seattle Times, March 15, 1970, by Ivan

"Next time you need a definition of 'superstar,' ask UCLA's basketball players about Marvin Roberts.

"The Utah State forward's 33-point, 16-rebound performance in a losing cause against the Bruin juggernaut yesterday was the individual highlight of the West Regional Tournament, and his one-on-one duels with UCLA's Sidney Wicks were rare treats on which to end the local hoop season.

"The 6-foot-8-inch junior from the Brooklyn playgrounds hit shots from outside, drove the baseline for layins, and at times showed almost superhuman effort on the offensive backboards, under extreme pressure..."

BACKGROUND

They call it the "Suicide League" in New York and a look at the players who graduate from the league tell you why.

Roberts, Ron Sanford of New Mexico and Rober Brown now in the ABA played at Wingate High ... add Connie Hawkins, Billy Cunningham, LeRoy Ellis, Rico Petricelli, Brian Newmark and numerous other college and pro players and the league had to be "suicide!"

Roberts actually was a one-season prep performer but since that senior year he has been sensational.

NATE WILLIAMS. No. 22 - All-America Candidate, 6-5, 217, Jr., Forward Oakland, California - McClymonds High

Nate Williams teamed with All-America Marvin Roberts and Aggie teammates last season to take USU to the finals of the NCAA west region playoffs.

Williams, only a sophomore, played with the talent of an upperclassman. And its no understatement when Utah State fans claim that the duo of Roberts and Williams are very possibly the two most talented forwards playing on one major college basketball team this year.

ALL-AMERICA SOPHOMORE

Williams was picked to the first team of five sophomore all-America players along with former Michigan State star Ralph Simpson in 1970.

Based on the scouting reports from across the nation Williams was named to the select five by Mort Olshan's "Gold Sheet" a nation-wide basketball publication.

OLYMPIC TRIALS

The U.S. Olympic Committee selected Williams to tryout for the 1972 basketball team during July at the Air Force Academy. Williams was very impressive in early workouts but had to return to his home in Oakland, Calif. due to illness in his family.

ED EPPS - No. 21 - Letterman - 6-4 - 220 - Senior - Guard - Washington, D.C. - Cardoza High

In the NCAA West Regional at Seattle it was Epps' 22-foot jump shot with :13 seconds to play that gave USU the 69-68 victory and a shot at UCLA.

Against UCLA, although not a starter, Epps scored ten points in the first half and played sparingly in the second half to finish the game with 12 points.

During the season Epps scored three points in the final minute against Seattle to salvage an 82-81 win for USU. Epps likes the one-on-one situations and usually wins the battle.

JEFF TEBBS; - No. 12 - Letterman - 5-11 - 170 - Junior - Guard - Salt Lake City - Hillcrest High Tebbs started 23 games for USU as a sophomore last season. The 5-11, 170-pounds of hustle caught a number of basketball coaches off guard with his successful rookie season.

The big games were some of Tebbs' best efforts. Against Houston, Tebbs set a USU record with 11 assists as the Ags won 91-84. He scored 22 points and had five rebounds.

In each Utah game Tebbs was a factor. He scored 13 points at Utah and at home his six-for-six free throws made the difference in the Aggie over-time win.

The guard line competition will be more competitive this year. Tebbs is the only starting guard returning and his experience will make a difference.

Listed as one of five top sophomores in NCAA District Seven.

BACKGROUND

Played for Art Hughes at Hillcrest High School in SLC - Brother of Terry Tebbs an all-America player at BYU - Tebbs and teammate Ron Hatch led Hillcrest to state title as seniors - Totaled 60 assists in 16 games on USU frosh - Named Utah's high school "Playmaker of the Year" in Utah prep circles in 1967-68.

RON HATCH No. 23, Letterman, 6-4, 187, Junior, Forward - Midvale, Utah - Hillcrest High

Teammates called him "Slab" last season but Hatch has the last laugh - he came in twenty-pounds lighter this fall and ready to challenge the field.

Against Denver at Logan Hatch came off the bench to score 11 consecutive goals and 11-13 for the game. The FG accuracy of .846 percent is a school record.

In his one starting assignment Hatch led all scorers with 29 points. Coaches rate Hatch as extremely accurate within 12 feet of the goal.

BACKGROUND

Hatch had the good fortune of playing for Art Hughes at Hillcrest High School in SLC - along with Tebbs, Hatch was a key figure in the state title won by Hillcrest - Hatch played center.

Bees had the misfortune of a knee injury last December and had his season limited to just six games.

Blocking shots and rebounding is Bees' line.

AGGIE ALL-AMERICA PLAYERS

Wayne Estes

Less than two hours after the greatest game of his career Wayne Estes, consensus all-America in 1965, was electrocuted in a freak accident near the USU campus.

Selected as an all-America player his junior year Estes is the only player in USU history to score more than 2,000 points in a career. Estes scored 2,001 and had at least seven games to play and a possibility of 210 additional points.

Estes' records can be found in the record section of this book. Estes had all the shots - the set, the jump, key and baseline hooks, power shots and he made the fast break effective.

Cornell Green

Cornell Green was first famous for his talents on the Utah State basket-ball court before he became famous as an all-pro defensive back for the Dallas Cowboys. For four consecutive years Green played in the Pro-Bowl.

Green was all-America at USU during his sophomore and senior seasons. He was all-Skyline Conference three years. As a sophomore Green led the Aggies to the NIT consolation trophy. His senior season the Aggies played in the NCAA regional tourney.

Green holds the career rebound record at USU with 1 067.

Shaler Halimon

Shaler Halimon was the nation's eighth leading scorer in 1968 with a 26.8 average. 1His talents were more than scoring - Halimon averaged more than 10 rebounds per game during his two year career at USU and led the team for assists for two season.

Now with the Portland Trailblazers of the NBA, Halimon won the affection of the Chicago Bulls' fans last season. "Supershay" was a first round draft choice of the Philadelphia '76ers of the NBA and the Dallas of the ABA.

Marvin Roberts

While the Maravich-Murphy-Mount trio was causing vibrations in college basketball USU's Marvin Roberts was putting together some impressive credentials for $1\dot{9}70$ -71 when the all-star hunters would be looking for new basketball talents.

Already Roberts has been named to the Helms Foundation all-America team as a sophomore and junior. He has been pre-season choice on several national selections.

On the basis of his performance to date Roberts may be one of the top five players in the college game this year. Few if any player today can match his shooting, rebounding, assist and defensive talents. (See page seven for details.)

USU COACHING HISTORY

Coach LaDell Andersen is the ninth State head basketball coach. His 22-7 record of 1961-62 is the best first-year record ever compiled by a USU basketball coach. Andersen also is the only Utah State coach who has put 20-game winning hoop seasons back-to-back.

Andersen replaced H. Cecil Baker who was retired at the end of the 1960-61 season after 11 campaigns. The Staters with Baker won 157 games, lost 142, for a .525 percentage.

NIT

There were two highly successful seasons in Baker's coaching career at Utah State. The 1958-59 team posted a 18-7 record, and the 1959-60 team finished 24-5 and third in the National Invitational Tournament. During these two seasons Utah State won 15 straight home games.

1909

Clayton T. Teetzel was the first to be hired in 1909. The Michigan graduate in five seasons compiled a 22-19 record.

From 1915 through 1919, Joseph K. Jensen coached the Aggie hoopsters. He finished with a five season record of 17-16.

ROMNEY

E. Lowell Romney guided the Aggies through the next 22 basketball seasons and won championships in 1926, 1935 and 1936.

The 1936 Aggie team played in the Olympic playoffs after winning two of three bracket games from previously undefeated Kansas. The 1939 Utah State team finished third in the NCAA play-offs at San Francisco World's Fair. Romney's 22 season basketball record was 225 wins and 159 defeats.

BURNETT, LEE

Robert W. Burnett coached the Aggies to a 6-10 record during the 1941-42 season, and D. D. Young had two war year teams which won 24, lost 17.

In 1942-46, H. B. Lee, who later became athletic director at Kansas State University, took over Aggie basketball and in two campaigns won 21 games, lost 22.

1947-48

Joe Whitesides coached three seasons after Lee and compiled a 36-54 record before yielding the coaching duties to Coach Cecil Baker following the 1949-50 season.

COACH LADELL ANDERSEN

LaDell Andersen, three time NCCA District Seven "Coach of the Year" at USU, will field his 10th State team on Dec. 1, 1970.

Winning well over sixty percent for nine years Andersen is looking for another season of twenty-plus victories. Andersen's teams have won 20 or more games in five of his seasons.

An axiom about nice guys finishing last has been disproved by Andersen, both on and off the court. Andersen respects people and is openly respected by his coaching colleagues, members of the news media and by his team members.

In his first three years as State head coach the 40-year old Andersen guided his teams into the NCAA basketball playoffs all three seasons. He is the only USU basketball coach to take a team to the NCAA tourney more than once.

Andersen's path to $U\tilde{SU}$ is an interesting one both as a player and a coach.

In 1947 Andersen came to State on a "make-good" type scholarship after graduating from Malad, Idaho high school.

During a mid-December game his sophomore year Andersen seized upon opportunity when he sparked State to a win by scoring nine points from his guard position in the last three minutes.

Andersen started every game from that point through his senior year at USU. He was twice selected as an all-Skyline guard. His high scoring game was 27 points.

Following college Andersen played two years of service basketball at Sandia Base, New Mexico. He was a member of the all-Service team which competed in the 1952 Olympic playoffs at Madison Square Garden.

In 1953 Andersen joined the Denver Central Bankers team and was selected all-NIBL guard for two seasons.

From Denver and playing the game Andersen moved into the coaching profession when he became Jack Gardner's assistant at Utah in 1956. He became head coach at Utah State in the fall of 1961.

For a hobby Andersen enjoys working on his golf game. He held the course record for 18 holes with a score of 65 at the Logan Golf and Country Club until it was later broken in tournament play.

LaDell is married to the former Donna Jensen of Fort Shaw, Mont. They have a quintet of boys -- Clint, age 19; Larry, 18; Ritchie, 16; Bobby 14; and Jimmy, 12.

University President

DR. GLEN L. TAGGART

Dr. Glen L. Taggart, the 11th president of Utah State University, began his duties at USU on July 1, 1968.

A 1940 graduate of the University, Dr. Taggart formerly served as dean of International Studies and Programs at Michigan State University. He had held that position since 1956, except for a leave of absence from 1964 through 1966 when he served as vice-chancellor (president) of the University of Nigeria.

Dr. Taggart joined the Michigan State faculty as professor of sociology in 1953. Prior to that time he had been in government service as rural sociologist for the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture (1943-44), as social scientist (1944-49), assistant chief (1950-52) and chief (1952-53), Technical Collaboration Division, Foreign Agricultural Service of the USDA.

Director of Athletics

FRANK "BUSS" WILLIAMS

For many years Frank "Buss" Williams carried the State colors as a player and coach. This year Williams is in his seventh year as director of athletics since being named to the position in 1964.

A native of Utah, Williams received his bachelors degree from Utah State in 1948 and the masters in 1956 also at USU.

Williams was all-Skyline conference fullback for the State teams of 1946 and 1947. For three years he won the Skyline wrestling championships in his weight division and in 1946 Williams placed sixth in the discus in the NCAA championships.

After graduation Williams played professional football one year each with the New York Giants and Green Bay Packers.

Wiliams began his coaching career in Montana where he coached football and wrestling at Helena, Billings and Great Falls for ten years.

In 1960-63 Wiliams returned to USU to coach freshman football, wrestling and baseball.

For one year, 1963-64, Williams served on the coaching staff at Stanford University with former State head coach John Ralston.

Since taking administrative responsibilities at USU a new football stadium has been completed and a basketball arena is nearing completion.

Williams has nailed down football schedules which include all the traditional opponents plus the addition of the nation's powers; Texas, Oklahoma, Memphis State, Florida State and Kansas State to name a few.

The recent addition of Weber State to the football and basketball schedules indicates the ability of Williams to develop the type of programs that residents of Utah want in the state's athletic programs.

UTAH STATE UNIVERSITY

Utah State University was founded March 8, 1888 as part of the great family of colleges and universities known as land-grant institutions. The University first opened its educational doors on September 5, 1890 as an agricultural college.

However, today agriculture is only one of eight resident colleges within the rapidly expanding campus.

Eight Colleges

The University started the 80th year of educational work in the fall of 1970 offering work in the colleges of agriculture, business, education, engineering, family life, natural resources, sciences and humanities, arts and social sciences. A total of 54 academic departments are available to State students.

Growing with the pace experienced by most major educational institutions today, Utah State's graduate school offers the masters degree in nearly every subject taught at the institution and the doctorate degree is offered in some 29 major fields of sudy.

Progress

Today, after three-quarters of a century, Utah State projects a panorama of progress that would have astounded its pioneer founders and gives promise of even greater advancements to come. The raw campus which originally consisted of one simple building is now clothed in green lawns and spreading trees, the first building has been joined by 100 more, the initial nine-man faculty has grown to over 650 and the first student body of 22 has swelled to approximately 9,000.

Campus

The cosmopolitan student body includes students attracted from throughout the nation and the world. The spacious Logan campus, located on a picturesque 4,785-foot bench against the towering Wasatch Mountain range in northern Utah's Cache Valley, contains more than 260 acres.

Building

The University at present is in the midst of the largest building program in its history, with $20-million being spent at USU on buildings which will provide needed expansion of classroom and research facilities and will enable the University to meet more adequately the needs of the enrollment.

Among the new structures recently completed, now under construction, or planned for the near future, are buildings for chemistry, business, veterinary science-bacteriology, physical education, fine arts, industrial education, a library, an experiment station, high-rise residence halls, food service buildings, a new stadium and an assembly center.

GEORGE NELSON FIELDHOUSE

Utah State's Aggies will move into the new USU Assembly Center this season but the history of USU basketball remains in the historical Nelson Fieldhouse for the moment.

The Aggies left "Doc" Nelson with one of the greatest come-frombehind victories ever recorded. In the final game of the home schedule for 1970 USU caught the Air Force Academy at the gun to win, 80-78.

George Nelson Fieldhouse was constructed in 1939 through the cooperation of the State of Utah, the Federal Public Works Administration and a group of public spirited citizens who initiated the project in the interest of the public.
